

A German girl and a private in the U.S. Army were married in Newmarket last Thursday by Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake in the town hall council chambers. Lot of border crossings, trips across the Atlantic and red tape over countries, the couple was able to marry, finally, in Newmarket. presents the bride with the marriage certificate.

Wed In Newmarket, Escape Red Tape

Mr. and Mrs. Alois Lawrence, an American army private from Orlando air base, Florida, and a German girl from Darmstadt, Germany, were married in the Newmarket council chambers by Magistrate Hollinrake last Thursday afternoon.

The bride, Frieda Biekirch, came to Canada in June to marry the soldier she met in Germany five years ago.

Pfc. Lawrence arrived at Jackson's Point the day before the ceremony and left for his base the day after. It was a short honeymoon but the couple had waited a long time to be married. Mrs. Lawrence said she hoped to be able to join her husband in six or eight weeks after the proper papers had been obtained. "Now I am an American citizen's wife and I can live in the United States," she said with pride.

When the soldier arrived at Jackson's Point, they planned to go to Beaverton to be married but arrangements could not be made within Pfc. Lawrence's leave period so they came to Newmarket.

The greatest surprise for the couple, particularly for the bride, was a small reception held in a committee room by Town Clerk Wesley Brooks and his staff of stenographers. Russ Broadbent supplied a wedding cake, Eugene McCaffrey supplied flowers and the girls brought in plates of sandwiches. The municipal staff, reporters and witnesses toasted the bride and groom.

Frieda, in the meantime, is working for a Toronto couple which is now staying at a cottage at Jackson's Point.

Their marriage plans in Germany had been cancelled because Pfc. Lawrence was sent back to the U.S. within a nine months' waiting period required by the army before marriage to a German civilian. Law prevented Frieda's entry into the U.S. so their plans to avoid red tape took them from Darmstadt to Newmarket and a sidetrip 2,300 miles from Florida to Newmarket for Pfc. Lawrence.

Legal Action Sought By Miss L. Holborn In Beach Fence Squabble

Miss Lillian Holborn who was a candidate for reeve in North Gwillimbury elections last year has threatened the council with legal action. Miss Holborn owns several lakeshore properties at Willow Beach which the township has declared part of the road allowance and therefore public property.

Miss Holborn and other residents have said that the original lakeshore road is now under water and that the present road is a trespass. They claim that the beach is private property.

Earlier this year Miss Holborn erected a fence around her beach. Sunday crowds, she said, parked on her lawns and discouraged guests at her Willow Court resort.

The township council ordered the fence removed and after workmen removed the fence recently, she consulted lawyers. Miss Holborn's lawyers have written to council "... if the township fails or refuses to replace the fence ... on or before Saturday, Aug. 18 ... our instructions are to bring action against the township for a declaration of the lands fenced ... for damages, for trespass and for removal and replacement of the fence and for exemplary damages on account of the arbitrary and high-handed manner in which the township has acted."

There are several properties fenced in the same area. Last year council ordered a fence around a hotel property removed. Miss Holborn told The Era and Express today that her beach was strewn with garbage left by the public over the weekend. "The trouble is that no one seems to know where the road allowance should be," she said. "It doesn't involve me only but my fence was the only one removed."

Deputy Reeve Roy Pollock said "We have no intention of replacing the fence. We will have a new survey from Island Grove to Jackson's Point if necessary." He said that the fences which have been there for years cannot be objected to, that council could not back down on agreements made 15 years ago.

Willow Beach has one of the choicest strips of sand for bathing purposes. Hundreds go there every weekend.

SIX CARS BUCKLED IN FREAK ACCIDENT AT YONGE, EAGLE

An accident involving six cars caused many witty comments from onlookers on Yonge St. Sunday. Some cars had to be piled apart about 50 yards north of the Eagle St. stoplight when one driver failed to slow down behind waiting southbound traffic at the stop light.

A southbound driver in a large new sedan was travelling south and apparently did not realize traffic ahead of him was at a standstill. He rammed a small English car which was pushed into the rear of another. The sudden stop of the sedan caused three others to jam into the rear of the mix-up.

The result was a straight line of six vehicles buckled together. Two had to be towed away. No person was injured.

Police Chief, Wife, Friends Suffer Beating

Police Chief Arthur Moody, Schomberg, his wife and another couple were beaten last Saturday night by six young attackers who used beer bottles. Moody, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cooney were returning to Schomberg from Innes Lake at the time.

According to Moody, they were following a car on their return to town. Each time he tried to pass, one of the occupants would put his arm out the window and wave a beer bottle. At the top of each hill, the leading car would stop and hold up traffic. The occupants continued to wave beer bottles.

After passing the car, Moody stopped and shouted, "What do you think you are doing?" He and Cooney and Mrs. Moody had stepped from the car and the youths left their car and advanced toward them swinging bottles. Moody suffered head cuts, a black eye and lost two front teeth. Mrs. Moody and Cooney received head cuts.

No charges have been laid. A Toronto paper has stated that Moody questioned the lack of action by provincial police. "I haven't time to run around the country gathering witnesses," he is reported to have said. "I'm far too busy with my own work at Schomberg."

3rd Annual Trade Fair Opens In Newmarket Arena Aug. 15

Expect Record Gladiolus Show, Major Feature Of Trade Fair

A major feature of the Newmarket Trade Fair will be the annual gladiolus show of the Newmarket Horticultural Society on Saturday, Aug. 18. The fair was originally planned around the flower show and this year, entries in the 60 or so classes are expected to set a record.

Exhibitors will place their entries in the arena on Friday night and the show will be judged on Saturday morning by Leonard Butt, a leading gladiolus authority. In the afternoon, when the arena is again reopened to the public, the flowers and vegetables will be on display.

The show will have 40 classes in gladiolus and 20 classes in other flowers and vegetables. A larger entry is expected in the latter class because of the increased membership in the Horticultural Society from outside of town.

Another inducement to the larger entry list is the increase in the number and value of the prizes. Exhibitors are required to be members of the society and if not already, can show on payment of the $1 membership fee.

A feature of the flower show will be the exhibit of paintings by children in Newmarket's elementary schools. The work was done under the sponsorship of the society during the spring when a contest was held in the schools. The work is on historical subjects.

The two prizewinners from each class will be shown.

This project is an illustration of the interest shown by the society in children's work. While the contest was on, the children were taught a great deal about conservation and horticulture generally, and the results of this teaching is reflected in their work.

The Horticultural Society exhibit is under the direction of co-chairmen Howard Proctor and Howard Hugo. The children's work is under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Czernick.

LEGION BINGO
The Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion will hold a bingo on August 22 at 8.30 p.m. at the Legion Hall.

Spillette And Cook In Race For Wardenship Of York County

The race for the warden's chair in York county council next year is narrowing down to a contest between Deputy Reeve J. L. Spillette, Newmarket, and A. A. Cook, reeve at Aurora. A third contender is Nelson Boylen, reeve of North York township, but there is a possibility that he will withdraw from the contest.

Deputy Reeve Spillette is a veteran of Newmarket council on which he has served for 12 years, the last six of them as deputy reeve. Last year he was a county commissioner and took an active part in the county's fight against Toronto's annexation proposals.

He was chairman of the committee which drew up blueprints for an expanded county home at Eagle and Yonge Sts. That proposal was shelved, however, because of the uncertainty resulting from the annexation hearings.

A successful appliance dealer in Newmarket, Mr. Spillette has seen many changes in council work since he was first elected. More recently, as chairman of the important finance committee of council, he has had the opportunity to follow closely the growth of the town as reflected in its finances.

If elected warden, Mr. Spillette will be the fourth deputy reeve to hold that office and the third warden from Newmarket in recent years. Fred A. Lundy, former reeve, was warden in 1945 and before him, J. O. Little, a deputy reeve at the time.

Lions Bingo, Mutt Show In Rink Tonight

The Newmarket Lions club continues its two-day annual carnival and bingo tonight in the Newmarket arena with Dr. Ballard's Mutt Show at 7 p.m. and the monster bingo following right after.

Last night, at the Lions Park, there were games and novelties preceded by a parade down Main St. of decorated bicycles, baby carriages, etc.

"We are well pleased with public response to our show," said J. B. Walker, Lions president. "We were blessed with good weather and the people came to help us." All the proceeds from the two-day event are used by the club in its service work. The annual event is the club's biggest fund raiser.

Tonight, the bingo with over $400 in prizes, is expected to draw large crowds from the district. The tables will be set up on the arena floor.

The Dr. Ballard Mutt Show, a popular event as other years have shown, is open to all children with dogs. Prizes are for such classes as the dog with the longest tail, the dog with the shortest tail, the best decorated dog and so on.

At the draw held last night at the close of the carnival, four of the five prizes went to Newmarket ticket holders. Winners were: Miss M. Hayes, Amelia St., an electric refrigerator; Mrs. M. A. Branner, Andrew St., the bedroom suite; B. Moffatt, Pickering Beach, washing machine; Mrs. T. P. Robinson, chrome kitchen suite; E. R. McMurray, suit of clothes.

Aunt Jemima from the pancake booth made the draw.

Newmarket's third annual Trade Fair opens next Wednesday in the Newmarket arena. The fair will remain open until Saturday night. Included in the fair will be the Newmarket Horticultural Society's annual gladiolus show.

A major event in the year, the Trade Fair will be opened by Mayor Vale on Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. and will be open thereafter every afternoon and evening until closing on Saturday night.

Encouraged by the success of last year's fair, Newmarket's businessmen have put forth extra effort to make this year's show a bigger success than ever. From its formal opening until closing time, there will be a succession of free draws, prizes, organ music, demonstrations and colorful events to attract the public.

This year's exhibits range from a valuable display of diamonds and diamond set watches to the latest model automobiles, from sewing demonstrations to interior decoration advice, from sports outfits to special pottery. In the arena will, in short, be assembled a large representation of all Newmarket business can offer prospective buyers.

One new feature of the show will be the organ music. Through the efforts of Ken Ponting, a Wurlitzer organ has been installed in the arena and Newmarket organists will take turns at playing it. For the opening night, Herman G. Fowler will play. Thereafter, Norman Hurrell, Florence Goldsmith, Rev. Robert Pugh, Jimmy Hugo and Mrs. J. E. Cane will take turns.

Work on the arena decoration will begin after the Lions club bingo tonight. The decoration is being done this year by Eaton's.

The following is a list of exhibitors: Morton Brothers, Pontiac and Buick products; Singer Sewing Centre, accessories and dressmaking demonstrations; Senecal Dry Goods, a display of draperies and service in making on the arena floor.

The Dr. Ballard Mutt Show, a popular event as other years have shown, is open to all children with dogs. Prizes are for such classes as the dog with the longest tail, the dog with the shortest tail, the best decorated dog and so on.

POLICE TO GUARD JEWELLERY DISPLAY AT TRADE FAIR

A display of jewellery valued at over $25,000 will be shown at the Newmarket Trade Fair on August 15-18. Robert Yates, a Main St. jeweller, has assembled the collection from a number of sources.

Included in it will be diamond set watches, a wide variety of precious stones in unusual settings, and three unique clocks.

Another feature of the display is a hand engraved sterling silver tea service.

The display is so valuable that it will be guarded at all times by a uniformed policeman.

FLOODLIT BALL DIAMOND REALITY

And Someday Maybe It Will Be Real Recreation Park

A Newmarket community sports park may be in the dream stage but the ground is available at the old fair grounds for a swimming pool, children's playground and even a football and soccer field on the old parade square.

This season a committee has made a pledge to put floodlights in at the fair grounds ball diamond. The committee is made up of Charles VanZant, chairman, A. H. Topham, vice chairman, George Haskett, secretary, and Ken Flett, treasurer. Most of the money for floodlights has been collected.

The floodlights have been ordered for the ball diamond, the diamond has been improved, the poles have been acquired and post holes have been dug. It is expected that the poles will be erected this week or next.

So far $1,730 has been collected by the committee and with pledges, the total should be over $2,000. Another $1,500 is to be collected to complete all the work in connection with the floodlights and stands.

Action by the town council to make the fair grounds a legal community park has been requested and when this has been done, the provincial government is expected to make a grant which will pay one quarter of the costs.

The following are contributions made toward the floodlight campaign: Office Specialty $1,000; Davis Leather $250; Canadian Hoffman $100; Geer and Byers, $100; Town Softball League, $50; Hillsdale Dairy, $35; Tom Birrell and Sons, $25; Bender Casket, $25; Earl Weddell, $25; J. L. Spillette and Son, $25; Jim Law and Frank Courtney, $25; Morrison's Men's Wear, $15; Robt. Simpson Co., $10; Harvey Lane Drug Store, $10; Sam Gibney, $10; Russ Broadbent, $5; Atkinson's Drug Store, $5; Harry Holmes, $5; Embassy Beauty Salon, $5; Roy Mitchell, $5.

Donations to the floodlight fund will be accepted by treasurer Ken Flett at the Bank of Montreal or by any member of the committee. The donations are exempt from income taxation.

Among the volunteer laborers on the grounds have been Charles VanZant, George Watt, Eddie Gibson, Bill Haskett and George Haskett. Harold LaPlante and Ken Wright have operated Bell Telephone equipment for digging post holes. The Davis Leather Co., through superintendent Jim Gairdner, has supplied barrels to prevent the post holes from caving in.

Hazardous Crossing
Miss D. Griffiths was driving from Aurora to her mother's cottage on the Aurora sideroad one day a short time ago and when crossing over the 4th con. of King, was struck by a car travelling north at a high speed. Fortunately she was not seriously injured but her car was badly damaged. This is a dangerous intersection as cars travelling either east or west on the Aurora sideroad, no matter how carefully at this point, have to come to the middle of the 4th con. to see if traffic is coming north owing to the high banks on each side of the road.

On two occasions the writer has had narrow escapes while travelling both east and west and it is about time something was done to eliminate this danger. While we obey the warning to "slow down" on the Aurora sideroad this does not give the other fellow licence to drive recklessly. ## The Story of SHARON

By ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the ninth installment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining installments will follow weekly.

At the beginning of the Society of the Children of Peace, David Willson was in the vigor of youthful manhood. His active, imperious spirit smarted at that which he termed "intolerance" by the people with whom he had been associated. In his Book of Memoirs he speaks of those unhappy days. "I passed seven years in retired life, beginning in 1801. I gained admittance, according to my choice, into the Society of the people called Quakers. . . . I served them according to their laws and discipline for seven years. . . . I travelled far abroad and near at home to support their profession. . . . Their love for me became hatred and condemnation rose where justification had been and I was set at naught by my brethren.

"I refused controversy, fled from argument. . . . Through confidence in my integrity of purpose four or five brothers and sisters did forsake the Society of Friends and joined themselves with me.

"My own small cot became our house of worship. . . . Our numbers increased. . . . We became the sport of all that passed us by; we were numbered with the incurables and forsaken by every kind and class of people. We offered friendship to the people called Methodists. . . . we found their doors closed.

"In this condition of life I continued in the little village of Sharon which is now a resting place for all kinds of people. Now we sing the songs of Sharon.

Hopeful, and oh, peaceful land; The Church doth bear that once was barren, Children in our Father's lands!"

Society Organization
To the casual reader this Society might appear as having been loosely organized, for the historian has had to rely largely upon contemporary accounts. If records had been filed, and no doubt some were, they seem to be non-existent at this late period. The following document is of special interest:

"Hope, 23rd May, 1836. Received from James Henderson, one pound for a privilege in the House of the Lord at Hope, Province of Upper Canada, for which sum the said James Henderson is entitled to all the rights and privileges thereunto belonging, according to order afore written, and a vote and voice in all the public transactions of the Church, to him and his heirs forever walking in the order thereof.

"But if him or his heirs shall for cause now unknown become dissatisfied with the order of the church or otherwise, the same shall be refunded to him or them on demand, - relinquishing the rights and privileges above mentioned. John D. Willson, Treasurer."

Whether David Willson's religious beliefs could withstand the searchlight of orthodoxy is beside the question. That he was a mystic is evident from numerous of his writings in which he speaks of the visions which had appeared and had directed him. It is said that as a preacher he was mediocre. Be that as it may, the facets of his forceful personality, which were progressive, sincere and practical, in their turn have ably demonstrated his talent for leadership, his executive ability and his skill in architectural designing and craftsmanship, - all of these which he envisioned and carried to completion, have forever removed him from the eccentric into that realm of the gods, - a GENIUS!

Vitality of Vision
Nevertheless, a psychological situation had existed. Not only had his little band of followers broken with the ties of blood among the hills and rivers of Pennsylvania, but they had separated from the Meeting of Yonge Street which they had zealously helped to establish. Here in this hinterland of Upper Canada were but the smoky, stumpy clearings, the sombre forest shadows and the awesome loneliness of primitive living. Little existed by which to measure their lives. Ignored by their one-time associates and dominated by this imperious leader, now, after almost a century and a half, it is apparent that his Locksley Hall vision was of sufficient vitality that it gained the support of this handful of hard-headed Quakers.

Sharing equally with his interest in the denomination in Sharon which he had founded, David Willson possessed a second absorbing passion, music. From these quiet people of Sharon, the repressed music of generations poured forth in response to a hunger engendered by the lonely pioneer life. Sharon, already a religious centre, became musical, aesthetic and radiant, a commune of social welfare and the sylvan surroundings where the devotion and loyalty of the members to the society and its leader became an epic.

As early as 1819 the members of this little company cultivated their talent for singing and into it they entered wholeheartedly. They came from trail and from crossroad, by ox-sleigh and by horseback. The best teachers available at that time had been engaged. Beginning January 11, 1846, their first professional music teacher, Mr. Daniel Cory of Boston, for two years gave a systematic training in the rudiments of voice culture. The people of the outside district joined with the Davidites and they met in the large room above the Town Meeting House. During the time of this training, Mr. Cory held two grand concerts, one in February, 1847, and the second in the summer. These entertainments were held in the large lower room of that Meeting House which was filled by an appreciative audience.

First Pipe Organ

In the year of 1820 the first of three pipe organs was installed. This organ is now in the possession of Rev. Robert Pugh, a distinguished musician living in Keswick. In renovating it he discovered the case to be of cedar, handpainted to imitate mahogany, while the top and inside framework at the bottom are of English oak. Gold inlay covered the inside of all the panels on the outside of the instrument. There are 133 pipes, two barrels of ten sacred tunes each, and the complete instrument measures eight and one-half feet in height, two and one-half feet in depth and four and one-half feet in width. This is supposed to have been the first pipe organ built in Upper Canada.

The second organ had three barrels attached, with ten tunes on each barrel. The music produced on this instrument consisted of old-time ballads such as Blue Bells of Scotland, Henry's Cottage Maid, Water Painted by the Sea, Loch-a-bar-no-mo-re, etc. It is said that the tone of this organ was particularly fine.

In 1848 the third pipe organ was placed in the main part of the Town Meeting House. Each of these organs was built by Mr. Richard Coates of Toronto, who had been a band master in the British Army at the Battle of Waterloo and also in the Peninsular Wars. A picture of this gentleman now hangs in the Temple.

Brass Band Organized

The absorbing interest of music increased and as early as 1820 a brass band was organized under the leadership of Patrick Hughes. He was succeeded by Richard Coates who had built the pipe organs. Mr. Coates was a good teacher and gave individual training on each special instrument. He thoroughly taught each member the various scales and to readily transpose the music as they played.

Competent judges declared it to be the most perfect in tone, time and execution of any amateur band in Canada. After Mr. Coates resigned from the position of leader and teacher Mr. Jesse Doan was appointed. The date of this appointment has not been found but he continuously occupied the position until 1866 when because of failing health he in turn resigned in favor of his nephew, Mr. John D. Graham.

Tell Farmers Seed Late To Reduce Hessian Fly

Late blight was found in one potato field in York county last week, according to W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative at Newmarket, and he urges all potato growers to be very thorough and regular with the weekly spray or dust to prevent further infestation.

Whether one of the copper dusts or spray materials is used or one of the other types, be sure it is a fungicide and not simply an insecticide. Blight and insect sprays can be combined but put on an application once a week to protect the new growth.

RALPH BRAY WINS SOAP BOX DERBY ON MAIN ST.

Complete with all the thrills and spills of an Indianapolis 500 mile road race, Newmarket's Canadian Legion fourth annual Soap-Box Derby was run off last week.

The event brought out 11 entries who showed up with everything from streamlined jalopies to soap-box and garbage can contraptions. The winners were eased home by the cheers of approximately 1,000 soap-box derby racing fans lining the sides of Main St. from Millard to Botsford Sts.

The event was run off in three heats. Ralph Bray, at the wheel of his streamlined big wheeler, finished just out of the monied gold Trophy donated by Ted Robinson. Brian Million, with a burst of speed at the finish line, nosed in front of Bill Forhan for second place. Gene Garrett finished just out of the monied ranks in fourth position.

Legion officials in charge were Mickey Smith, Harold Eaton, Harold Brennan, Bill Ingram, Del Pemberton, John Hisey, Fred Gardner, Milt Wesley, Bill LaParde, Albert Skelton, Aubrey Seythes and Harold Sanderson. Each contestant in the race received a silver dollar.

Tomatoes, which took such a "beating" last year with thousands of baskets left in the field due to blight, should be sprayed or dusted every week from now on right through the harvesting season, particularly if it is a wet season, applying one application immediately before commencing to harvest the tomatoes.

For the first, second and fourth applications, W. B. Fox, local vegetable fieldman for the agricultural representatives' branch, recommends using a ziram (zinc carbamate) such as Karbam white, Zerlate, etc., according to manufacturers' instructions. The third and fifth applications should be a copper dust according to manufacturer's directions.

Mr. Cockburn points out that on both potato and tomato blight control success depends on preventing the organism from getting into the leaves by maintaining a protective coating. Spray or dust under the leaves if possible and apply before a rain rather than after as the rain drops carry down the spores from the air and they stick to the wet leaves.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

We were late from the paper route Thursday and so fore- went the "wraslin' matches" and Dr. Zomb's performance at the Roxy. William was full of it, though, on Friday morning so we had a second hand account of the "seance".

William says that he guesses there is really something to hypnosis after all. We gathered he went a sceptic and left a convert. "Those people on the stage weren't faking," he told us with conviction. Wouldn't have believed it if I hadn't been there."

The conversion of William should be quite a feather in Dr. Zomb's cap. Before the performance, William got hold of a report in a Toronto paper which seemed to cast some doubt upon the master's ability. Up in Sleds, the good doctor put a girl to sleep in the window of a furniture store. Three hours later, she apparently "awakened" and walked out. A policeman persuaded her to go back and keep the show going.

"Nope," says William on Friday morning. "It's the real goods alright. That boy had them right under his thumb." "How about the wraslin'?" we asked. "Oh, it was alright too," says William.

We sometimes think that much of the joy of the journalist's profession would be lost were it not for Dr. Zomb and others of the travelling fraternity. We didn't meet Dr. Zomb; he came to town when we were busy putting the paper on the press. But we recall with much pleasure Corky, the Human Cork, and Krikor, the Armenian Polar Bear.

They brought the light of new horizons into our office, opened vistas we had never dreamt of before. Corky, a man of considerable weight, put on a show in the park. He was so huge that he floated high in the water. We have forgotten his act; he did do a few balancing tricks, we recall, but that's all we remember. But the man himself left quite an impression upon us. When he came into the office, he filled it to overflowing with his bulk, and it was an interesting experience to watch him seat himself in a telegraph chair. Once in, we thought he would never get out.

The Armenian Polar Bear was of different nature entirely. Where Corky was quiet and somewhat retiring, Krikor was the hearty extrovert. "Hi keed," he greeted us, "I'm a polar bear" and he slapped us across the back, leaving us gasping for air. Krikor went down to the river and dug a hole in the ice. Then for a couple of hours, to the delight of the huge crowd that watched him from the Davis Dr. bridge, he splashed about like a huge whale in the sub-zero temperature.

We've been reading in the Sudbury Daily Star about a man born in the district who went north in 1917 and a few weeks ago, opened a large shopping building, another of his several real estate developments. J. Walter Tate was a boy in "Sharon, near Holland Landing," according to the Star.

From the time he went to work for the C.N.R. in Northern Ontario, he has had an unbounded faith in the development of the north. From the time of his arrival, he acquired real estate. Since then, he has built numerous business blocks and homes throughout the north.

His most recent development was Tate Block in Sudbury which houses an A. and P. super market, a laundrette, a snack bar and bowling alley.

A sister, Mrs. Laura Goodwin, lives in Holland Landing.

ARE RESTRICTED HOURS FAIR?

We strongly question the advantages of agreements among small businesses on the hours which they will be open to the public. It is said in their favor that they prevent destructive competition, that they protect employees from undue working hours. The fact is that employees are already protected, by provincial legislation.

Most of the men who now own their own businesses will admit that they were successful because they put in long hours and hard work. Their willingness to give that extra service was a major factor in their achievement. But when three dealers agree on their hours and the fourth is obliged to follow suit, it very often happens that the fourth is the man struggling to make a success of his business by working the long hours the other three no longer need do.

In so many words, when competitors impose upon one of their number agreements which limit his chances to increase his business it is, we feel, an unfair restriction upon the rights of a minority. If a man wants to stay open for business until midnight, he should be allowed to.

But there is another issue involved, that of service to the public. The closing hours of Newmarket businesses have become progressively earlier. One result has been that more customers are going to other centres where the stores stay open later. There is no reason why a businessmen shouldn't close when he wishes, just as there is no reason why his competitor shouldn't stay open to serve a late shopping public if he wishes.

NEWMARKET TRADE FAIR

Next week, the third annual Newmarket Trade Fair will open in the Newmarket arena. From its first year, in the Newmarket town hall, the fair has grown progressively larger. The arena is no longer large enough to accommodate all who wish to exhibit. However, committee in charge has been able, by re-arranging exhibits, to increase the number of exhibitors and this year's fair promises a rich bill of fare for its visitors.

One of the most significant facts about the fair is that it presents such a wide variety of goods and services, all of which are available from Newmarket merchants and businessmen. We find it difficult, sometimes, to realize that Newmarket can offer all the advantages of the big cities to the customer. Admittedly, there is sometimes a delay of a couple of days when there is a call for some special articles, but this is more often the exception than the rule.

Another consideration is price. Goods bought in Newmarket are frequently cheaper than they are in the city. Certainly, there can be little saving when one must add the cost of transportation to the cost of the article. We would suppose that one reason Newmarket customers sometimes eschew their home town merchant in favor of the city is that it is pleasant to travel outside the town limits, and that is a consideration we know no way to overcome.

However, for four day, a large portion of the goods and services available within Newmarket will be on display in the Newmarket arena and if last year is any indication, the arena will be more crowded than ever and the fair a source of pride to all who have shared in its preparations.

TWO ACCOMPLISHMENTS

It is a source of great satisfaction that the role of Newmarket and district in civil defence is at least partly defined. And it is equally satisfying that a start has at last been made on the organization of a conservation authority for the Holland River valley.

Both matters have dragged for months; both have been pressing. Public apathy, government bickering, misunderstanding and ignorance have all had a part in the delay. Now a start has been made and the immediate difficulties overcome.

It is interesting too that the actions taken at the civil defence meeting and the conservation meeting are, in a sense, improvisations or adaptations to local circumstance. Originally, it was intended to have the conservation authority include representatives from every municipality which touched, be it ever so lightly, upon the Holland watershed. These included such distant municipalities as Tecumseh and Albion townships in adjoining counties. But the clumsiness of such an arrangement, even though required in the legislation, was in part responsible for the delays in organizing the authority. The present arrangement of the five municipalities most vitally interested in the valley is far more workable.

As for civil defence, unless the dispute has been quietly resolved, there is still some doubt as to whose responsibility civil defence is, the federal, provincial or municipal government. The question is not academic since there is a matter of cost to be settled. This argument was one reason for delay in civil defence organization.

From what we can learn of the organization as set up now, Toronto and York have gone ahead without waiting for a final decision and from what was discussed last week, are doing an excellent job of it.

We could go a step further and draw a moral from these developments: all too frequently, large public projects are left undecided because there is too much dependence upon precedent or upon the decisions of some other body. In both the civil defence organization and the conservation authority there is evidence of what can be done with flexibility of thought and determination to get on with the job.

TREND OUT OF CITIES

The recently completed census in the United States shows a definite trend away from the big cities and into the smaller nearby towns and villages. When the Canadian census figures are released, there is every reason to expect evidence of the same trend here. Indeed, in the growth of Newmarket and Aurora, and throughout King and Whitchurch townships, the evidence is before our eyes.

Whether driven by the necessity to find homes unobtainable in the city, or simply because they know from past experience that country is to be preferred, more and more people are establishing themselves outside the cities. But as desirable as the trend may be, it is not without its problems for the rural municipalities. Services must be expanded to accommodate this growth; the easy pace of rural administration has had to speed up.

The impact of this growth has been most obvious in the administration of the schools. Last year's local budgets almost without exception showed heavy increase in school costs, both for expansion and better salaries and higher standards. These increases, duplicated more or less in all other municipal services, have placed a heavy strain upon the property-owner, and in turn, has shown up inequalities in assessment methods.

Farm lands are being assessed in entirety and where there is an urban growth besides rural properties, this has had the effect of throwing a disproportionate cost upon the latter, particularly in education costs. Whitchurch, and a number of other rural councils, has proposed that farm lands be exempted from certain municipal costs arising out of urban developments. Another proposal has been that for certain purposes, only the farm house and an acre of land be assessed. Of the two, the latter is the more practical, but so far, there has been no enabling legislation and farm owners continue to pay a heavier tax than is fair.

STORAGE FOR DOCUMENTS

Included, almost as an afterthought, in the terms of reference for the Massey Commission was consideration of the preservation of national historical monuments. The commission's findings are of interest to North York because of the number of historical associations within the district. The commission recommended that the work of marking historical sites and the preservation of historical buildings, etc., be greatly expanded, that greater emphasis be placed upon the restoration and preservation of historic sites and buildings, that historical sites be considered within the national interest and thus protected from export.

At the present time, the York Pioneers and Historical Society are looking after one of the most remarkable historic sites in Canada, the Sharon Temple, and doing a very good job of it. But while the society has unlimited zeal, it is less fortunate in its resources. It cannot be expected to so preserve the many other historical buildings which are falling into ruin for lack of attention. The situation here is more or less duplicated across the country: public spirited groups doing what they can but hindered by lack of funds.

An effort was made by the province a short time ago to develop some sort of program of marking and restoring historical sites, but it seems to have come to nothing. Its motives were somewhat commercial, the argument being that if such a program were carried out, it would help encourage the visits of American tourists, most of whom are bent on sight-seeing.

If the government does adopt the recommendations of the Massey Commission, every effort should be made to see that North York is given its share of attention. But failing this, we wonder if there is some way in which province, county and municipality can work with such organizations as the York Pioneers to at least halt the destruction of historical buildings as a prelude to their restoration.

Wallace I. Suan, Count of Pilsnerbrand and pretender to the throne of Lesser Dromedaria-land, according to our far flungest correspondent, has written a letter to the dictator in his capital city from his hole in the ground in the frontier wastelands of the Dromedaria-land desert.

Wal. I. Suan, the monarchist, fled to the desert and his hole in the ground after the end of the last Dromedarian eruption during the 30's. In a 2,000,000,000-word personal letter to the Dromedarian dictator, General-ismistress Fango, Suan, it is reported, has warned him to turn the country over to a monarchy, namely him, Suan, or else.

By "or else", we don't know what he means because what can a man who only owns a hole in the ground in the desert, Dromedaria-land at that, do against a dictator?

Slim Bliggins discussed this point last night after we read the cable from our correspondent in Dromedaria-land. Slim himself fought with the T shirts under the international brigade banner during the long Dromedarian civil war. The chief weapons used by the side Slim fought with were squirrel guns, blow darts and hat pins.

"Sfunny," said Slim. "The boys I used to fight alongside of in the great Dromedarian civil war used to carry the sentiments of a lot of the western people. But if they wuz still going strong nowadays they would have fallen out of popularity."

"Generalismistress Fango was the villain in those days. Nowadays public opinion is too lazy to think about him much," said Slim. "He's hobb'n' with world diplomats like a saint these days."

According to our correspondent's report Wallace I. Suan wants to restore the old dynasty of Ghengis Foolero Suan. However the dictator would rather have the two weeks' old stepson of Suan's seventh cousin as heir to the throne and in the meantime, he, Fango, would be regent.

Suan says that the only way his country can get a credit rating for dollars these days is to replace the uncertainty of a

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

We were asked the other day to lend a hand with the harvesting for a man who has been sick. So one bright and crisp morning we found ourselves in a field with several tractors and other equipment and also a considerable amount of hay. By supertime that night, the crop was all in and we were home, tired but with the feeling of work well done and efficiently so.

Here is another example of the same sort of "help for a neighbor". Some months ago, when that twister struck around Zephyr, we know of a bee that cleaned up a man's lane which was filled with fallen trees. A man who rented a farm down east had his crops put in by his neighbors because he was unable to do it himself. And so on.

We could tell you of many more instances but it isn't really the good neighborliness of this that strikes us as remarkable. We take it for granted that when a man is really in a jam, we will go and help him. What is remarkable is that so much is accomplished and so well. There are some things that a group of people can accomplish that cannot be done any other way. In this country, farming is built on scarcity of labor. One often wonders how much better some things could be done if there was a lot of good labor around at an economical level.

At a bee, there is lots of it and all of it generally good, efficient and willing. Secondly, there was a lot of big, powerful machinery as well, balers and elevators and good wagons.

But what is even more important was the combination of lots of machinery and lots of labor. These bees are, as a rule, a great success and the reason for it in our opinion is this combination of all things necessary.

The question is this: If these bees are so successful, why is it that they aren't used more often to get us out of difficulties. Here is a tool, in our opinion, that has a tradition in this country, something that is tried and proven worthwhile and yet it isn't used any more.

We think that modern machinery, while it did have its origin partly at least in the shortage of labor and the desire to do things without being dependent on others, is just as much improved by a bee than the more primitive forms of farming. We think that a combining bee and a baling bee would add to the amount that can get done. Imagine how fast a 30-acre field of hay would disappear if two or three balers started into it with three or four trucks and elevators and enough men to operate them and keep them going. And what three big self-propelled combines would do to the spring grain on a 200-acre farm if the balers followed the combines and the men and wagons behind. It would be faster and better done and it would shorten the season and it would be to everybody's benefit.

All it would need is leadership. We didn't mention what usually starts these emergency bees. It is a phone call from a neighbor or friend to invite somebody to join in. All it needs is somebody to start it.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The Editor: We enjoyed the article in last week's issue on "Dutch" Schmidt (A Ride With "Dutch") so much that it brought to our minds an experience concerning our small eight-year old son.

He had been greatly looking forward to going down on the big bus to spend the day in the city and we were comfortably seated when the driver came along for the tickets. He took one look at my son, who is very small for his age, and said to me "You really could have saved your money by carrying him on your knee" - I didn't look at Sonny's face for a few minutes, but when I did all the joy had gone and when he finally spoke he said "Mummy, he thought I was a BABY!" - I tried to make up all sorts of excuses, saying the driver couldn't tell when a person was sitting down just how big he was, etc., etc., but Sonny's day was ruined and I knew it.

We travelled along in silence for a few miles when a man with crutches got on the bus. It was quite full by this time and without a word to me my little son got on my knee and said "Have my seat sir." Apparently the driver had heard him, because after a few minutes the bus came to a standstill between stops and he said in a very loud voice to the lame gentleman, "I wonder if you would mind taking that empty seat at the back, sir, this young man is really far too big to sit on his mother's knee. I had no idea he was so big." There seemed to be a general air of relief over the entire bus and when I looked at Sonny he was smiling broadly and saying "See, mom, I guess you were right, he did make a mistake".

Who was the driver - who else but "Dutch" would trouble about a little boy's feelings to the extent of stopping a bus on a busy highway and making that boy's day happy again.

Inspects Guide Camp

Mrs. D. R. Gunn, Girl Guide Commissioner for York County, paid an official visit to the Guide camp at Wilberforce, Haliburton district, on Civic holiday. Her daughter, Katherine, was one of 27 girls there under commandant Miss Joyce Healey, Thornhill. For two weeks, the Guides have enjoyed special training near a small lake with an excellent beach. They have specialized in work on the pioneer badge which includes woodcraft and cooking. The camp comprised four bell-tents, four Guides to each, under a tent leader. The quarter-master was Mrs. R. Knight, Scarborough. Mrs. Gunn was well pleased with the whole set-up and the happy spirit in which routine duties were performed by the girls. It was Miss Healey's first year with full responsibility as the commandant.

Incidentally, the mixed doubles winners have yet to be decided - so we will have that information for you later. The next dart tournament will be starting in a few weeks time, so watch this column for dates. Tournaments are open to all Legion members, use up one night a week, costs 25 cents a night. TOWNSEND - HIRST
Friday, July 27, Willowdale United church, Toronto, was the scene of the wedding of Ruth Irene, daughter of Mr. Thomas Hirst, Keswick, and the late Mrs. Hirst, and Neil Townsend, son of Mrs. W. Flyer and Mr. J. Townsend. Rev. Edgerton Young officiated at the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

She chose a ballerina dress of white nylon marquisette and lace. Her finger-tip veil of illusion tulle was trimmed with lily of the valley and the bride carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Marion Blakeman was matron of honor for her sister and wore a ballerina dress of orchid nylon marquisette and white lace picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink gladioli. Lynn Blakeman, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore blue organza trimmed with white lace and matching headdress and carried a nosegay of baby roses and carnations.

Mr. Walter Townsend was groomsmen.

The reception was held at Glendale Manor where the bride's sister received. To receive the groom's mother chose a gown of blue chiffon and matching hat and a corsage of baby roses. The couple chose matching suits for a motor trip. On their return they will reside in Willowdale.

THE HOMEMAKERS

Colorful Fruit Salads

What could be more colorful or have more eye appeal than a fruit salad? When everyone is completely worn out or seems to be lacking in appetite, a fruit salad will usually tempt them.

Right now raspberries, cherries, melons and some peaches and plums are available. These are the fruits which Mrs. Housewife should plan to use as the basis for fruit salads this week. And, of course, fresh fruit salads should be served not only this week but every week as long as the season lasts.

Generally fruit salads are very low in calories. If any member of the family is watching the waist line, the dessert problem may be solved with a fruit salad. However, this type of salad does not necessarily have to be the dessert course. It may be the main course or the appetizer. If the salad is to be the main course, it should be accompanied by a filling food such as cottage cheese, cream cheese, or peanut butter. While the appetizer-type salad should tease the appetite for the food which is to follow. Here the combination of fruits should be light and tart.

Cherry Cottage Cheese Salad
2½ cups pitted and halved sweet cherries
1 cup cottage cheese
Lettuce or watercress
Salad dressing or mayonnaise

Mix the cherries and the cottage cheese. Serve on shredded lettuce or watercress. Garnish with salad dressing and serve well chilled. This recipe will serve six people. Incidentally, if cherries are not available, raspberries or strawberries may be used as a substitute in this salad. When it is served with buttered toast, hot muffins, or tea biscuits it makes an ideal luncheon dish.

Frozen Fruit Perfection
1 package cream cheese (4 oz.)
Dash of salt
1 tsp. sugar
½ cup salad dressing or mayonnaise
1 cup whipping cream
1 cup sliced peaches
1 cup diced cantaloupe

Mash the cheese with a fork and beat until smooth. Add salt, sugar and blend with salad dressing. Whip the cream and fold into cheese mixture. Add the sliced peaches and the diced cantaloupe and pour into a freezing tray and freeze until firm. Serve on crisp lettuce. This recipe will yield six to eight servings.

For a quick and simple, but appetizing supper dish serve this fruit salad. Cut any desired fruit in cubes, quarters or halves, top with a big spoonful of cottage cheese and serve with an appropriate dressing. For special occasions, stuff peach or pear halves with cream cheese, cherries and almonds.

Needlecraft News

by Pauline Roy

HAVE YOU ever tried turning the eyesores among your furnishings into assets? It may be that you've become so accustomed to your old household necessities that you don't notice how much renovating they need. But cast a critical eye around you.

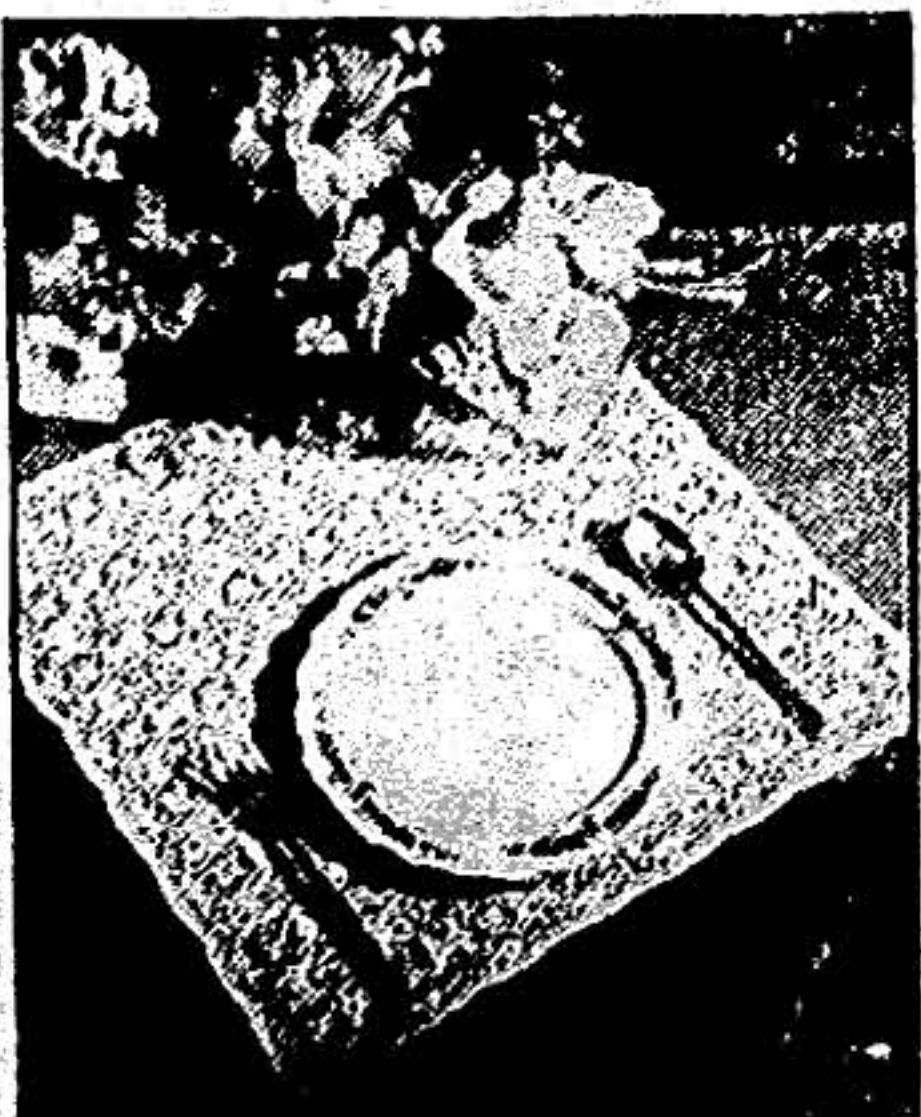

If you don't like everything you see, don't be discouraged — begin making them over so they will add to, rather than subtract from, the beauty of your home.

If you use window shades, remember that they cover a large area of your room when they are down. If they are ugly they can spoil an otherwise lovely effect of fresh curtains, potted plants or pottery arrangements you may use to brighten your windows. So do something a little novel with your shades. You can make new shades yourself, quite easily, using the same rollers and sturdy new pieces of chintz in decorative pattern.

Old mirror frames can be brightened and brought right into your bedroom's decorating scheme by covering them with ruffles of material. If the frames are flat, the material can be pasted to the frames. You can rejuvenate your washbasin in this same manner.

If the headboard of your bed is old-fashioned or unattractive, it can be brought up-to-date and beautified with a modern slipcover. Quilted headboards are new and popular and fun to make. Another new note to add to your bedroom is a handsome stuffed bolster made from any gay bedspread material.

By paying attention to the smaller items you can make all the difference to your home decorating scheme. New table settings do much for your morale and give you new enthusiasm for trying different recipes. When you are first married preparing meals is so much fun for you have lovely table cloths and mats, and new silver and glassware for your table. After a few years, though, the newest wears off somewhat and perhaps you don't get the same kick out of planning meals as you did at first. This is the time to put your talents to work and add a few fresh table linens to your supply and try your hand at decorative floral centerpieces. Have dinner by candlelight at least once a week, make your table look new and exciting and try a few different meals and you'll be amazed at what a difference it will make to this business of feeding your family.

Pictured here is a square doily which makes a lovely table setting. You can crochet it yourself in white or cream or any of the lovely colors of mercer-crochet. The doily measures 14 inches square so it is simply big to hold a dinner plate, side plate, and water and juice glasses. If you would like to have directions for crocheting this SQUARE DOILY send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this paper asking for Leaflet No. PC-1132.

PRESENT TABLE AT AURORA LEGION AS MEMORIAL

The Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion Branch 385, Aurora, held its regular meeting in the Legion Hall.

Members of the executive of Branch 385 and members of the quilting group of Red Cross were present.

Mrs. Margaret Dan, on behalf of Red Cross group, presented a beautiful table to the Legion Hall as a memorial to the boys who had fallen in the second great war.

Mrs. Dan also spoke of the members of the group who had gone to higher service. The money for this table was raised by the sale of quilts and quilting during the war outside the number of quilts done for war services.

This was received on behalf of the Legion by Mr. Alfred Bolby, president, and Mrs. E. Mugford, president for the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Anna Smith spoke a few words of thanks to the ladies who served a dainty lunch under the capable leadership of Miss C. White.

MANNING FAMILY HAS REUNION

Sixty-five members of the Manning clan from all over Ontario gathered in Stanley park, Toronto, Sunday, July 29, for their first reunion and it was decided to make it a yearly affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Manning won the prize for the oldest couple on the grounds.

Mr. B. A. Manning, Lindsay, won the prize for coming the longest distance.

Those from Newmarket who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Keffer, Ruth and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Darrach, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Gilbert and two sons, and Mr. Jack Manning.

William Nelson Collins, Newmarket, passed away June 20 at the age of 88 after an illness of seven months. He had spent all his life in this district. In 1891 he married Mary Gorley. He was engaged in the dairy business for many years. His chief interest was his home and garden.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter Lulu (Mrs. Ross Armitage) and grandchildren, Mrs. Fred Leach, Newmarket, and Harry Armitage, Pine Orchard.

The funeral service was held at his home on June 22 and was conducted by Rev. R. R. McMath. Interment in Newmarket cemetery.

Palbearers were Messrs. T. F. Doyle, Fred Lundy, Albert Skelton, W. Curtis, Edgar Dennis and Frank Evans.

Little Things That Count

In the profession of homemaking, it is very often the little things that count. The little savings gained in careful buying often add up to a considerable amount in a year. Little details in food preparation often make the difference between a meal that is really enjoyable and one that is eaten merely to appease hunger.

The garnish or the dainty way in which a plain food is served will lift it from the ordinary into the special class. It is well known that we "eat with our eyes". Certainly appearance enhances appetite.

Buying — Keep nutritional value in mind in making your food purchase. Price by no means indicates food value. Keep up with the current food situation. Listen to the radio and watch the newspaper for food information and market reports. Buy foods which are most plentiful.

Make sure you need what you buy and that you are getting good value. Buy by weight or quantity . . . never ask for "so many cents worth".

Compare prices and quality of bulk and packaged foods. The former are usually cheaper but often require more care in storing. Buy by grade when possible and buy the quality best suited to your needs. Read the labels on canned and packaged foods. The label tells you what and how much you are buying.

Meal planning — Avoid monotony in meals by varying the ways you cook and serve food. Follow up-to-date cooking techniques for good-tasting, attractive-looking meals . . . Usually a well-balanced meal is an appetizing one.

Vary color, texture and temperature of foods in the meal. Color attracts the eye and adds interest to the meal. Avoid clashes of color, for example, do not serve beets, tomatoes and radishes together. Texture contrast between soft and crisp foods often means the difference between a mediocre and a superb meal. Serve hot foods hot and cold ones cold.

While U.N. and Red negotiators at Kaesong struggle over questions of peace or further bloodshed in Korea, Allied soldiers have been attacking a 1000' hill in Eastern Korea, 27 miles north of the 38th parallel. Here a battery of 2nd Royal Canadian Horse artillery support forward patrol positions of A and B companies of 2nd Battalion Royal Canadian Regiment with a heavy barrage of artillery fire.

Simcoe Finish Tightest In Years

Whatta finish! Five points separate the first seven in the Lake Simcoe loop. Three ties and three sudden-death games are needed to untangle the finish. First was Pine Orchard with 21, second Willow Beach and Kes-

KING

Vacation visitors at the home of Mrs. G. H. Stone recently were her nephew, Russell Desmond, his wife and daughter of Ingersoll, who spent several days with his aunt. They were motored to King by a brother, Glide Desmond of Weston. They are the sons of Mrs. Stone's eldest sister. Unexpectedly, a brother, Percy, of London, with his wife and daughter made a Sunday call to find Russell at the Stone home.

Mrs. H. H. Whitney of Elmvalle spent last week with her mother, Mrs. Stone. Her daughter, Frances who has been attending summer school at Toronto, will teach public school again this September, her second term. Last year she taught at Midhurst and will take a rural school six miles from Elmvalle this term. Frances was appointed secretary-treasurer of the students' council body at the summer school, being selected from 450 for the position.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dent are on a motor trip crossing the Thousand Islands International Bridge over the St. Lawrence river to the U.S. They stayed at Watford and Batavia, and visited Buffalo and Detroit returning home via Sarnia.

wick tied 20 each, Zephyr and Hope deadlocked with 19 each. Fourth and very important, Queensville and Belhaven in a dead heat for that sixth and last play-off spot.

Now for a few notes on the regular schedule closers. Second and third innings homers by Don Cooper and Duff Sedore earned Belhaven a 2-1 win over Willow Beach. Beach run in the second as Don Anderson stroled, moved around two stations on wild pitches and trotted home on Bruce Fairbairn's single. Duff Sedore yielded only three hits to shade Beach veteran Cec McNeill in mound duties. Bel's picked up six hits, round trippers by Sedore and Cooper, a triple by Bernard Kay, doubles by Claude York and Herb Tomlinson, and a single by Judd Rutledge. Beach hit collectors were Al Chapelle, Don Cameron and Bruce Fairbairn.

Benefitting from Lon Ganton's steady hurling and two big two-run innings, the first and fourth, Queensville "Realtors" bowled over Zephyr "Blues" 4-3. The win hoisted Queensville into a tie with Belhaven for sixth, necessitating a sudden-death play-off.

Zephyr counted a run in the first on Johnny Meyers' run-plating single and Clark Arnold homered on top of Alan Lockie's single in the sixth to cash Blues' other pair of tallies. Realtors picked up seven hits off Ron Kester. Jack Perry, Lon Ganton, Doug Smith, Bruce Pegg, Carl Pickrel, Lyman Hall and Bob English collected one each.

Sparked by Roy Eves' double and Cliff Ward's triple, Hope exploded for five runs in the second to eke out a 5-4 win over Zephyr Blues Friday. The win moved Hope up to tie with the Blues for fourth place.

Blues pumped across a run in the second on Bill House's single and got a desperate three-run rally going in fourth but couldn't drive in the tying run. Harry House's four baser was the big blow in the Zephyr books. Don Glover yielded eight well scattered safeties to pick up the pitchers' decision over Ron Kester.

Cec McNeill's six-hitter, plus four-run scoring hits by Don Anderson and Don Cameron in the first innings, enabled Willow Beach to bump off Pine Orchard 8-3 in a league closer Friday at the Beach. The victory lifted the Beach into a second place tie with Keswick. Top hit marks in the Beach camp fell to Ted Anderson, Don Trivet, Don Anderson, Don Cameron, Cec McNeill and Al Chapelle. Bob Shropshire, Lorne Shropshire, Ted Tidman, Bill Dike and Howie Ash accumulated the Pine Orchard safeties.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Since coming to Ontario in 1944 we have holidayed in many locations, but never have we had more congenial company, more excellent service or more pleasant surroundings than this year. For the first week of our holidays we vacationed at York County hospital.

Oh, you don't consider that a holiday? Well, according to Webster, "any day of exemption from labor or work" is the definition of a holiday so these past two weeks certainly qualify. Why everything was done for you... no making beds; no cleaning or dusting; no planning, preparing or serving meals. How much freer can you be of duties?

Of course, there are a few drawbacks to vacationing at this spot. Cheerful people always insisted on greeting you at 5.50 a.m. with a bright, "Good morning". "Ugh" we'd reply crawling down further under the blankets, but even this lack of response on our part failed to deter these hardy individuals. The daily routine had begun.

Just when you are most content to remain undisturbed someone gets other plans. Suddenly there is a stir of excitement. Much to your consternation you realize that you are the centre of these activities. Following a routine whose composite parts are alluded to with initials and abbreviations by the nursing profession, you are draped in a weird assortment of hospital wear. First, anything smacking of individuality is removed. Then comes the "Johnny" coat, a device to shatter one's sense of feminine allure; white stockings, some of Giant McKaskill's hand-me-downs and a white kerchief.

Kind voices direct you to leave the comforts of your bed for the narrow confines of a stretcher-cart, re-assuring smiles accompany you down the hall and through the glass door into the immaculate whiteness of the O.R. Soon your concern over temporal matters ceases... with confidence you have placed yourself in the hands of your surgeon.

Much, much later voices keep coming through the fog. They are calling. For awhile you can't understand what they want but slowly realization dawns that it's your name they are calling. You try to answer, but can't. Then everyone stops calling.

WALTER SCOTT, VOCALIST

The Whip Triumphant In Arena Wrestling

Tooney's Loonies, as they are familiarly known in the Big Town, came to the Memorial Thursday and stole the hearts of some 1,200 odd Newmarket and district wrestling filberts. The six muscle-men carry three quarters of a ton of heft and did about everything necessary to send the fans into a frenzy of delight.

In the opener, Sonny Kurgis, 226 lbs., Oklahoma, was pinned by mat villain Mays McLean, 245 lbs., in 20 minutes. The heart of the gallant Newmarket clientele went out to the Oklahoma plow-boy and his exit was marked by a bigger round of hurrahs than given McLean.

In the semi-finals, Chief Suni War Cloud, tipping the scales at 235, and Tommy O'Toole, bad man from the Iowa corn fields, belabored each other to a draw. The latter gent appeared bent on tearing off the Chief's arm and hitting him over the head with it but never quite succeeded.

Then the main attraction pitted our British Empire champ, Whipper Bill Watson, against the nefarious Lee Henning. But right triumphed, as Whipper came out a badly battered champ but still winner in two falls. Henning with mayhem in his eye, gouged, kicked, punched and rammed our Whipper against the ring post but the Whipper survived the worst. Henning had to offer and finally splattered Henning across the canvas.

After the prescribed rest period the pair came back for round two and in 15 minutes, the Whip had Henning spread like butter on the canvas to win in two straight falls.

Newmarket Leads In North York Tennis Loop

Newmarket Tennis Club moved to the front in the North York tennis league with a 5-3 win over Aurora last week. Results with Newmarket players named first were: ladies doubles, Joan Peppiatt and Joyce Bothwell defeated Betty Boulding and Shirley Liversidge, 6-1, 6-3; Eileen Bailey and Margaret Davis were defeated by Mary and Joan Adams, 3-6, 4-6.

Mens' doubles: Keith Davis and Charles McGuire defeated Gord Grant and Bill Jones, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3 in a feature match of the tourney; Charles Lee and Frank Dampf were defeated by Keith Nisbett and Frank Wims, 6-4, 4-6, 4-6.

Mixed doubles: Joan Peppiatt and Keith Davis defeated Betty Boulding and Keith Nisbett, 6-4; Margaret Davis and Charles Lee defeated Shirley Liversidge and Frank Wims, 6-3; Joyce Bothwell and Frank Dampf defeated Jean Adams and Gord Grant, 6-1; Eileen Bailey and Charles McGuire were defeated by Mary Adams and Bill Jones, 1-6.

Keswick, Willowdale Tie In Q'ville Tourney

Pitching was about everything Saturday at the annual Queensville Sport Day. With Keswick firing Charlie Justice, Beches top-ranking finger, and Willowdale "Tremmen" countering with Gordie Wright, former Beches league star, the two teams battled through seven innings without cracking a 0-0 deadlock. The two teams finally settled on a division of the first and second prize stake.

In the opener, Chas. Justice pitched a no-hit, no-run game as Keswick bested Queensville 2-0. Tommy Stewart, working the pitching shift for Queensville, was nicked for hits by Bob Pollock and Bill Stanyer to build their victory margin.

In the only one-sided contest of the tourney Mount Caramel (Toronto), last year's winners, dumped Thornhill of Markham Township circuit 10-2. Bob Murray's Hoffman entry lost a 2-0 decision to Willowdale "Tremmen". Ivan Ruddock's failure to squeeze a pop fly cost Bill VanZant the decision in a nip and tuck pitchers' duel with the Tremmen's ace, Jackie Drummond.

The semi-finals matched Keswick against Mount Caramel. Keswick with Charlie Justice pitching two hit ball, eliminated the Toronto 3-0. Bob Pollock's triple and an outfield error on Bill Stanyer's hit to center cashed the Keswick runs.

Schomberg, Woodbridge Play Off For Title

Hold on to your hats, folks! It will be the Hastings-Cabell Schombergers against Woodbridge for the Peel-York softball title. The three out of five series designed to declare a champion will get underway this week. Playing dates for this important saw-off hadn't been set up to Wednesday morning. It is hoped to play two games this week, first game at Woodbridge, and second possibly at Schomberg Friday evening under the flickers.

Woodbridge applied the elimination treatment to Potageville last Thursday with a home 12-4 win. A five-run first innings uprising started Woodbridge away and they were never headed. Doug Perry's homer with two mates aboard provided the sunshine in the Potageville camp. Howard Archibald and Art Moody shared the mound duty for the vanquished.

Two-Week Services At Stouffville Arena

Plans for an evangelistic campaign similar to the one held last year in the Stouffville arena have been made for two weeks of special services commencing August 19, sponsored by ministers and laymen of churches of Stouffville and the surrounding district.

Rev. Q. J. Everest of Indiana will conduct the meetings, with his daughter, Miss Charlene Everest, as pianist. Mr. Everest, is known as a speaker on the radio network each Sunday morning, and will be remembered by many here who recall his services in the United Missionary church several years ago. A choir of 100 voices is being trained by Mr. Eldon B. Lehman of Toronto, to lead in the service of song. This choir is composed of men and women from the churches of the local district.

The King's Radio Quintette will furnish special music during the meetings; and following its successful contribution to the services last year, an electric organ will again be installed by Hallman's. Mr. Clarion Baker will again preside at the organ.

Keep these meetings in mind; and plan to attend as many as possible. Last year's attendance was estimated at more than 12,000. Let's rally from all sections of the district to bring the figure higher this year. You'll enjoy these evenings of fellowship with friends from all parts of the district, and it will be a reunion that will live in your memory.

Rev. H. Hallman is president of the committee, and Rev. G. W. Brown, secretary. Study the advertisements and posters for further details of the meetings. Week night meetings commence at 8 p.m., and on Sundays at 7.30 p.m.

Plan Full Day Of Ball At Aurora Legion Show

Tom Dickson and Bill Mundell, Aurora baseball kingpins, plan a full day of pee-wee baseball as part of the Legion Day being staged in Aurora Saturday. Four teams are due to take part in the tournament. Proceedings open at 10 a.m. with Bill "Red" Mitchell's Lindsay "Police Cadets" tangling with Bill Mundell's Aurora "Cubs".

At 1 p.m. Newmarket "Optimists" will square off against Brampton. Survivors from the earlier game will meet at 4 p.m. for the championship and Legion trophy.

Mount Smothers Sutton With 35-Hit Attack

Mount Albert ladies, current leaders in the Lake Simcoe Softball League, collected 35 hits and Sutton "Greensoxs" collected little but grief as Mount Albert bashed the lakeside gals 31-4 in a league tilt Wednesday. The game completed Mount Albert's regular schedule, assuring it of first place with 14-win, two-loss record. The loss skidded Sutton into fourth place.

The Mount Albert hit list had an "out of this world" flavor with robust hitting first-sacker Ruth Simpson leading with a six for six show. Marilyn Morrison ran a close second with five. Ida Bertolin, Mounties' de-luxe outfielder, homered, doubled twice and slipped in two singles. Joyce Ingram and Lois Morrison chimed in on the extra base driving with triples. Marguerite Green coasted as her mates scored in every innings, polishing off an eight-run fifth and an equal production in the sixth.

Dorothy Lonergan took a liking to Marguerite Green's pitching to rap out three hits to lead Sutton's eight-hit attack.

Keswick Spills Pin-Ups With Rally In Sixth

A last of the sixth rally that wiped out a Newmarket 10-7 edge earned Keswick an upset 11 to ten decision over Newmarket "Pin Ups" in a Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies' League contest last week. The game was a replay of a previous rained out game.

The loss didn't upset Newmarket's second place standing but did enable Keswick to move into third, one point in advance of the fading Sutton "Greensoxs".

The "Pin Ups", despite an early error parade, fashioned Carol Burton a ten to seven margin. Came the last of the sixth and trouble. Keswick strode in to take its liks and before the effervescent Keswick clouters could be silenced, four runs were spurted across the plate and they were victors 11 to ten.

Dot Stevens, who is coming right along in the Keswick pitching department, limited Newmarket to eight hits. Carol Burton eased her pitching burden with three of these. Barbara Shropshire, Barbara Watt collected two each.

Honors on Keswick side went to Lyla Clark with three and Helen Burbridge with two.

Keswick: L. Clark, K. Peters, G. Curtis, H. Burbridge, R. Peters, D. Stevens, B. Heaton, G. Peters, H. Porter.

Newmarket: G. Woodhouse, B. McArthur, J. Robinson, J. Quinn, J. MacDonald, B. Shropshire, B. J. Watt, B. A. Watt, C. Burton, R. West, M. Lee, I. Rogers.

IS IMPROVING

Mr. Wm. Palmer, Newmarket, has been confined to bed for the past six weeks. He is convalescing at home and his condition is reported as satisfactory.

Baseball Minors Split Games With Aurora

Newmarket and Aurora minor baseball crews split twin-bill exhibition games in Aurora Park Saturday afternoon. Behind fancy four-hit chugging by Jack Cain, the Optimists downed Aurora "Cubs" 11-3 in the pee-wee session. Bill Mundell's Aurora "Tigers" climaxed an early drive with a six run uprising in the third to topple Frank Hollingsworth's Optimists bantams 11-6 in the nightcap tilt.

John McGuire was the Optimists big gun in the pee-wee tilt with two triples and a double. A pair of walks given up by Jack Cain plus run scoring hits supplied by Keith Browning and Bert Lovelless gave Aurora its three runs.

Bill Mair, Laurie VanZant, Don McKnight and Bill Forhan contributed the Newmarket hitting in the bantam contest. Ray White, Murray Chapman and Allan Childs sparked the Aurora offensive. Murray Chapman earned the pitching decision over Bill Mair.

O'Keefe's CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

FOR over two decades the modest backbone of the Argonaut Football Club has been a slim, iron-grey haired trainer named George Aspinall Stockwell. Riding the fortunes of the Double Blue through feast and famine, Stockwell has likely tended more football immortals than any man in Canada. An expert physiotherapist, George Stockwell, nevertheless, learned his training methods through actual, on-the-spot experience. Although he has specialized solely in football during the last fifteen years, he trained a varied collection of athletes in his earlier years. In 1924 George bandaged the celebrated Maitlands' lacrosse team with Lionel Conacher, Livingston and company; he trained sculler Johnny Coulson and the great Australian oarsman H. B. (Bobby) Pearce in their prime, and in the early thirties tended the aches and pains of the West Toronto Memorial Cup hockey winners.

The Best Argos

Having served the Argonaut teams almost consecutively from 1929 to the present time, George Stockwell took time out during World War II to serve with a field ambulance unit and was discharged with the rank of Regimental Sergeant-Major in 1945. That year, too, he read his name on the King's list, awarding him an M.B.E.

George Aspinall Stockwell has two favourite Argonaut teams which he elevates above all others. First, he chooses the great 1933 squad with Tommy Burns, Teddy Morris, Ab Box and the rest and then proudly adds the 1950 Grey Cup champions. Stockwell likes to point out a surprising coincidence about these two teams in that they both defeated Winnipeg for the Dominion Championship by a score of 13 to nothing.

Asked about the greatest American and Canadian Argo players to go through his hands, George picked two of the 1950 Americans as the best, respectively, on defense and offense... Buckets Hirsch and Uly Curtis. And, of the dozens of great Canadian players, Stockwell mentioned two as the outstanding exponents of the game... Art West and Teddy Morris.

"That Morris was a terrific team player," said Stockwell. "He never weighed more than 160 pounds at any time, but if he could find even a twelve-inch hole in the enemy line he'd be through like a miniature battering ram. And, in all the games Ted Morris played he never once bothered to come to my rubbing table although sometimes, after a game, he was so shaken up he could hardly find his street clothes in the dressing room!"

The Iron Mask

In 1933, George Stockwell worked with several Toronto doctors in perfecting a playing-mask to enable the great Argo kicker, Ab Box, to continue playing although Box had sustained a broken jaw against Montreal.

"Designing that mask was quite a task," stated Stockwell. "It had to be stationary during play. It had to be made in such a way that it didn't hinder vision or hearing and yet Ab's face had to be protected and supported. We made several before the famous Iron Mask emerged. We must have been successful for it helped Ab Box and was then loaned out to many teams in Canada and even found its way over to the States several times."

Another Generation

The latest Stockwell to appear on the Argonaut training scene is young, 17-year-old Bill Stockwell who was made assistant to his Dad this year. Originally, this plan had called for the appointment of Stockwell's eldest son, George Jr., but he was killed while serving with the RCAF over Singapore in 1943.

Now, with his son in tow, George Sr. presides over the 1951 Argonauts as the RSM in charge of training and injury, and the team abides by the stern rulings of this regimental gentleman.

While he turns over the parade to "Colonel" Frank Clair, Stockwell's unspoken command rings across the Dominion Champions' training field.

Leave Nine Stranded, Local Girls Lose 10-5

Newmarket ladies saw a pair of valuable points they needed to stay on even terms with Barrie "Valleys" for the loop leadership in the Barrie and District circuit vanish down the drain Thursday as they dropped a 10-5 decision to Orillia "Bus Line Flyers".

The loss, briefly, could be summed up in one sentence: failure to hit with runners on the bases. The Courtney-Van-Zant nine left no less than nine runners stranded. The Orillians packed up a run in the third to break the scoring deadlock and cracked the game wide open with an eight run uprising in the fifth.

Newmarket recovered slightly in the fifth to break a way as Phyl McInnis, Mary Ellen McInnis, Edna McGrath and Lois Darrach got good wood on Irene Patterson's pitches for a two-run rally. Edna McGrath, making her return to the line-up, slammed a homer on top of back to back singles by Phyl McInnis and Mary Ellen McInnis and touched off a three-run seventh innings rally. But it petered out before the Orillia lead was threatened.

Newmarket: P. McInnis, M. E. McInnis, G. Allan, E. McGrath, L. Darrach, L. Blight, M. Osborne, M. Dean, H. Clarke, J. Moore, P. Bovair.

Orillia: T. Barnes, D. Fletcher, M. Smith, M. MacFarland, M. Nalmsmith, B. Wiltshire, J. Gilchrist, I. Patterson, D. Hopkins.

Loss of the French outposts in Huronia 300 years ago largely decided whether Canada was to be French or English governed.

Etienne Brule, Champlain's scout, was the first white man in Ontario to be furred and eaten by Indians.

Specialty hit marks were collected by Jean Sisler, Audrey Brice, Eva Whitfield, Joan Robinson, Shirley Wardell and Darlene Stuffles.

Helen Burbridge received full batting marks in the Keswick camp with a homer, two triples and single. Kay Peters collected three hits, a homer and two singles.

Specialty: M. Teasdale, J. Sisler, A. Brice, F. Callaghan, E. Whitfield, J. Robinson, S. Wardell, A. VandenBergh, J. Bennett, P. VandenBergh, D. Stuffles.

Keswick: L. Clark, K. Peters, G. Curtis, H. Burbridge, R. Peters, G. Peters, B. Heaton, R. York, H. Link, S. Link.

Ontario Playdowns Start Here Wednesday

Newmarket ladies will have their first trial run in the P.W.S.U. intermediate playdowns here Wednesday, Aug. 15. First opposition will be either Bowmanville "Pepsi Colas" or Ajax "Aces", reports skipper Frank Courtney. The latter two have yet to declare a winner in the Lakeside Ladies League. Return game in the best two out of three series will be played at either Bowmanville or Ajax on Saturday, Aug. 18.

Newmarket ladies will complete their regular schedule in the Barrie and District loop here tonight (Thursday) against Midland "Merchants". A win could mean first place in the league standing.

Specialty Girls Chilled By Keswick 21-5

The Keswick gals, fresh from an upset win over Newmarket junior "pin-ups", dropped into town Thursday for an exhibition joust with Charlie LeGood's Office Specialty girls at the Hoffman diamond.

The Specialty ladies escaped out of the first frame with but one run against them. Then they crashed as Keswick hashed up Darlene Stuffles' pitching unmercifully to bush-whack 15 runs across the plate to make it a run-away 21-5 victory. Outside of this better-to-be-forgotten innings Specialty did little to be ashamed of against the more experienced lake-side cuties.

Specialty hit marks were collected by Jean Sisler, Audrey Brice, Eva Whitfield, Joan Robinson, Shirley Wardell and Darlene Stuffles.

Helen Burbridge received full batting marks in the Keswick camp with a homer, two triples and single. Kay Peters collected three hits, a homer and two singles.

Simcoe Loop Prepares For Play - Offs

The Lake Simcoe Softball League executive meeting Friday at President Chapman's home found it had a job on its hands to draw up the play-off schedule. First and third finishers meet in bracket one, three out of five. Second and fourth team clash in series two and in bracket three fifth and sixth team go at it. Latter two sets go two out of three.

Play-offs are due to commence Friday evening unless rain interferes with the sudden death play-offs now being run off between Willow Beach and Keswick for second place and the Hope-Zephyr tilt designed to designate the fourth and fifth team. The other sudden-death business concerns a Queensville-Belhaven game for the sixth and last play-off spot. Here's the first week's draw: Aug. 10, Fourth team vs Second team at latter diamond (either Zephyr or Hope at either Keswick or Willow Beach);

Aug. 13, Sixth team vs fifth team at the latter diamond (could be Queensville or Belhaven at either Hope or Zephyr);

Aug. 14, Third team vs Pine Orchard at Pine Orchard diamond (either Willow Beach or Keswick could finish third);

Aug. 15, Second team vs fourth team at the latter diamond (either Willow Beach or Keswick at Zephyr or Hope).

TIE SUDDEN DEATH TILT

Belhaven and Queensville battled through seven hectic innings to a three all draw in Tuesday night's contest at Mount Albert to decide the sixth and last play-off berth in Lake Simcoe circuit. They play again tonight.

Wilf Elsy's towering home run belt in the sixth after Bill Burkholder had looped a single into left earned Queensville the tie.

Belhaven assumed a three run lead in the third on three unearned tallies gathered together on Claude York and Morlyn Winch's singles and three Queensville errors. Queensville got one of these back in fourth on Bob English's wrong field double and singles off the bats of Wilf Elsy and Bruce Pegg and then of course got the tying runs on Elsy's four master.

Lon Ganton, going great guns on the Queensville rubber, yielded but three hits to overshadow Duff Sedore, Belhaven's rise-ball chucker, who allowed Queensville six singles. Wilf Elsy was Queensville two-hit man and Claude York set up a similar production for Belhaven. Outfielding and infielding was terrific. Doug Smith's country mile run to haul down a hoist in Bruce Greig saved the day for center left the fans gasping and Queensville with a grab of a liner on the last play of the game. Replay goes tonight at Mount Albert 6.45 p.m.

Queensville: B. Greig, L. Ganton, W. Burkholder, B. English, W. Elsy, L. Hall, B. Pegg, D. Smith, J. Perry.

Belhaven: D. Sedore, H. Tomlinson, M. Winch, I. Davidson, J. Rutledge, D. Cooper, B. Kay, B. Winch, C. York.

Call For Rogers

The sensational rise of Horace Brown's Keswick junior men's team from away back to second place has set the fans talking. Reason for the sudden upswing in Keswick crew's fortunes has been the terrific pitching stunt turned in of late by Ted Rogers.

Ted in the last half dozen games hasn't missed getting at least seven or eight strike-outs and on one occasion ran his string to 13. Ted supplements his pitching with a slugging bat and usually manages to cuff at least one extra base blow and more often than not includes a base-circler in his take-home hit pay.

This week, therefore, it's our pleasure to recognize the work of this up and coming 19-year pitcher and name him for the Hashman award and winner of the Roxy Theatre pass.

Lend Player, Bell Loses To Atomics

Bell Telephone allowed their generosity to extend too far Friday evening. The Atomics came one man short-staffed for the Town League fixture. Bell agreed to allow the Holmesmen Laurie Thoms to fill their roster. That was a mistake. The Atomics proceeded to wallop the Bell 23-9, a loss the Bell could ill afford if they had sights set on second place.

Bell got away in customary fashion to ram home five runs in the first with Jack Teasdale's triple and doubles by Stan Evans and Bob Cody. The Atomics roared back in the second with a pride-shattering six runs. From there on, the Bell could do nothing right. The Atomics nothing wrong. The Atomics finally put the blitz on the Bell with an 8-run uprising in the fifth, worked on five Bell errors.

a walk, Lowell Waller's three-run homer and singles by Ivan Gibson and Bill Smith.

Atomics collected 14 hits off Morley Cook and Stan Evans, six for extra bases. Harold LaPlante, a Bell fugitive, was Atomics head man scoring five runs with his homer, triple and single. Lyman Hall, Bill Smith and Lowell Waller bagged two each. On loan Laurie Thoms cashed a two run scoring round tripper.

Bell found their plate power from Jack Teasdale and Bob Cody, both collecting three hits. Runs with his homer, triple and single. Lyman Hall, Bill Smith and Lowell Waller bagged two each. On loan Laurie Thoms cashed a two run scoring round tripper.

BELL TRAMPLE CYCLEMEN
Mick Smith's Bell team banged everything Ivan Bray, Sports Cycle hurler, had to offer and wound up 18-7 winners Wednesday in the Town League. Bell also wound up tied with Hoffmann for third place. The Bell jumped fast for a 9-3 second innings lead and had the Cyclermen on the down hill run with

Legion Baseball Tournament

A boost for minor baseball is being provided this year by Aurora Legion which is holding its annual field day and carnival on Saturday, Aug. 11. Pee wee teams from Brampton, Newmarket, Lindsay (Itd Mitchell's clan) and Aurora will be on hand with three games carded. First game starts at 10 a.m. with Aurora meeting Brampton. At 1 p.m. Newmarket and Lindsay go on the diamond and at four chimes the finals will be played.

This should be a real bang-up show for ball fans and the Legion boys are gambling on the sportsmen of the district to be on hand and give the kids a real boost. Price of admission is simply a draw ticket, which of course may enable you to win a boat complete with outboard motor and for the frait an electric ironer.

The Dr. Ballard mull show will be held at 3 p.m. and this too should prove an attractive feature for young and old. For a long time now, the fans have been giving lip service to minor ball; let's see a real crowd on hand at all games to see the stars of tomorrow. The evening feathas provided should draw a big house with dancing in the Aurora Armory.

Friday night you can catch a smart ball game at Stouffville as Earl Cook's Red Sox meet Sunderland in the second game of their Tri-County play-off. Stouffville, incidentally, has added Normie Stenden to its O.I.A. line-up. The Red Sox pitching staff now boasts Earl Cook, Ken Schell, Dinty Hodgins and Jack Andrews, Aurora, and of course the versatile Stenden will be able to step into the breach if necessary. Sutton meets Port Perry in another play-off sector and the odds favor those old York county rivals meeting in the group finals. Stouffville is the defending champion.

Collin Nisbel, proprietor of the Highlands Golf club, and Stew Mills, the town planning expert, will represent the Aurora club in the Ontario seniors tournament at Scarborough on Friday. "Pop" and Stew will give a good account of themselves judging by their recent performances.

Eddie McElroy, Newmarket, the genial "Hello" Man, and Bill Cross, club champion when the course was known as Aurora, were entries in the Kawartha tournament at Peterboro over the holiday. McElroy teed-off at around 5.30 a.m. to prove his enthusiasm for the hit and hunt sport.

A new champion will be crowned this year at the Highlands club. George Thompson, one of the Toronto contingent, ousted big Larry Molyneux who has held the Jarvis trophy for two years, three up and two to play in one bracket while Andy Pura, Toronto, and Bill Sherwood, ex-cannalowner, will fight it out on the weekend for the honor of meeting Thompson. The other tournaments are well advanced but holidays have delayed things somewhat.

Club pro Charlie Warren is well pleased with his first year at Highlands and the members are keen about Charlie too. The new nine-hole addition is coming along nicely and may get a bit of play in late September.

Stan Smith did grand job in his first start as a "casslin" promoter and the 1,300 fans who attended last week's show at Newmarket certainly received their money's worth. You've got to hand it to Whipper and his cohorts. It doesn't matter whether they're working before 10,000 at Maple Leaf Gardens or a hundred at Pumpkin Centre, they still give top grade action and hilarious high jinks that John Barrymore and Lon Chaney couldn't equal.

The crowd reaction is always one of the highlights of any show. The North York fans are no exception. Seating, lighting, air conditions, ring conditions, catering, announcing and in fact everything was well handled. The next show is August 23. Fred Atkins didn't show due to injuries and Mayes McLean, manager of the Masked Marvel (still unmasked), we mean the Toronto variety of Mask) joined the cast and Lee Henning moved up to the main bout. McLean and Henning were the villains of the night and both will be welcome back again. Incidentally, over the years it has been our pleasure to meet runs in all but one innings.

Bill Smith and Elmo Phillips of the Bears will both be given another chance by Eddie Shore and we think Bill Mitchell has his eyes trained on these two and they may wind up in Lindsay.

It took Joe Caradonna, used sparingly this year, to get the Cyclermen out of horse-collar hook in the second. Joe, after Doug Ropp and Francis St. Amant struffed, tucked one of Stan Evans' pitches far and away for a round tripper. Hits by Bill Ingram, a double, and Joe Caradonna, a single, staked the Cyclermen to two more in fourth and they got similar production in the fifth on Ivan Bray's and Francis St. Amant's singles. The game was called in the sixth as Ernie Miller was injured.

Bill Johnston, filled to the brim with extra base bread and butter, whammed three homers and a single that he promptly stretched into a base-circler on an error. Other Bell hitters were Don Smith, John McFarish and Jack Teasdale with three per man. Morley Cook, working at the keystone sack, picked up a pair of bingles. Stan Evans got a creditable pitching chore going allowing Cyclermen but six hits.

Debt Issue Discussion Arena Commission's Failure To Report Stirs Criticism

A general meeting of the town council was held on Tuesday evening, Aug. 7, when there were present Mayor Bell, Deputy Reeve Murray and Councillors Corbett, Davies, Fielding, Jones and Pringle. Also present town clerk, Ken G. Moses, assist. town clerk, Mrs. Helen Dickson, and town solicitor, Lorne C. Lee. Reeve Cook and Councillor Gundy were not present.

Early business included the hearing of representations from Dr. Boulding and Dr. Henderson regarding the installation of a sanitation and storm sewer on the easterly portion of Kennedy St., a matter which was held over for the securing of other names to the petition and council's further consideration.

Mr. Snow and Mr. Harrison appeared in regard to parking signs on the north portion of Wellington St.; Mr. W. Garfitt asked for assurances in regard to water and sewerage concerned with his projected new $70,000 plant and this matter was referred to the town engineer.

Debtors' Problems
Bond company representatives appeared before council in regard to the proposed issue of debentures to cover the high school area loan of $600,000. The discussion was lengthy and involved and no decision was arrived at. It was decided to hold a special meeting of council and to ask for the attendance of representatives of the high school area and also the public school, to ascertain if some arrangement could be reached to issue debentures for the coverage of $350,000 which would include the recent permit of $250,000 debenture loan for the public school.

Reports
Councillor Corbett, chairman of the fire and water department, drew attention to the deplorable condition of the base of the water tower, pointing out that the need to restore it was urgent. Councillor Corbett remarked that reeve Cook had told him that the work should have been done six years ago. The matter was left in the hands of the fire and water committee.

Mayor Bell presented a report from the police committee which recommended the purchase of a police cruiser. It was agreed to obtain prices and further consider the matter.

A further police committee report indicated that the committee and a board of trade committee had conferred together on the location of parking meters.

Arena Commission
Councillor Fielding raised the question of the absence of any report from the arena commission of the 1950-51 winter arena activities, pointing out that the public should be fully informed on what was going on.

Councillor Corbett supported the request for information. He said that the town had a right to know what was going on, and that as public money was invested in the arena an itemized financial statement should be produced by the commission. Councillor Corbett was of the opinion that when ice was put into the arena a government grant of $5,000 could have been obtained if it had been applied for. He wondered why no application had been made for the grant. He insisted that the arena commission ought to issue a full report for the satisfaction of the public.

Councillor Davies supported the request for a report, and in further discussion deputy reeve Murray expressed the opinion that the arena still needs additional work to be completed if a "real job were to be done." It would probably cost a further $20,000 or even more, to complete the work. The deputy reeve agreed with those who had requested a report from the arena commission.

The discussion ended when the mayor said he would take the matter up with the arena board.

Other Business
Frank Marritt, York county weed inspector, appeared before council and gave a lengthy address on the weed problem, pointing out that there were areas in Aurora much in need of attention. He drew attention to the favorable condition of King township in this matter, where the elimination of weeds had been successfully carried out.

A credit business representative appeared before council, offering his firm's services in the collection of old town debts, taxes, etc. The mayor requested him to leave his firm's address with the clerk.

At midnight a vote extending council time for 15 minutes was carried to enable a set-back building by-law for Yonge street to be proceeded with. Several other by-laws were held over in view of the lateness of the hour, and a special council meeting was arranged to deal with these.

(Comment, and additional information, on the foregoing meeting of council will be found in next week's issue of "Council Sidelights" ed.).

Indian corn, squash, sunflowers, grapes, plums, raspberries, strawberries, wild apples, and walnuts were found in Huronia by Champlain in 1615.

Did The Meter Problem In Aurora Bring About Malcom Family Breakup?

We were astonished the other evening when a doctor of science asked us "what happened to Malcolm? We don't read about him any more," he added. From time to time, over the past 18 months, enquiries had come to us from ladies who were concerned about Malcolm. Especially when we had to report that he hadn't been back for his Christmas nuts, donated to him by a lady admirer.

But we had never supposed that a graduate in science from an American university would have any interest in Malcolm, the squirrel.

We promised the doctor a report on Malcolm's doings, and here it is, ragged and unkempt. Some time ago Malcolm and his wife, Geraldine, took to the leafiest part of the tall maple tree that stands opposite to our upper window and began a family of four. They had a family last summer but what has become of the brood none can say. Like Jean Jacques Rousseau, the famous French social reformer, Malcolm discarded his progeny when they became too irksome.

One thing, however, can be said for Malcolm. He is a loyal monogamist and no believer in polygamy. We are sure he had the same wife last year that gave him a family this summer. There cannot be two Geraldines with the same whitish streaks on their gray backs.

The same pair gathered the nuts last year. They did have this in common with Rousseau, of whom we spoke. Rousseau said: "The money we possess is the instrument of liberty; that we pursue is the instrument of slavery." Malcolm and his wife gathered the nuts; and by their diligence possessed liberty.

In late spring Malcolm and Geraldine took to the tree and stayed out of sight for some time. Then one day it was apparent that the squirrel population in Aurora had increased to the number of four. Malcolm and his wife brought the youngsters down (without the permission of the planning board) to terra firma. There they sported and played and raced around the base of the maple tree.

From time to time Malcolm or Geraldine would drive the youngsters back to the security of the tree, at such time as aggressors appeared. There was the Persian cat, and the other cat, Belshesba. It is hard to say which of these feline monsters is the more carnivorous in intent. They would prowl near the precincts of the maple tree; and whenever this happened Malcolm or Geraldine would let loose a curious hissing sound, at the same time driving their family upwards among the sheltering maple leaves.

When all danger was past the youngsters would descend to earth again. They appeared to take part in a number of games, squirrel softball and lawn bowling among them. When the games were over the whole family would go into a huddle, evolving some plan. At such times they "dissolved themselves into a committee of the whole" and, most probably, discussed some new by-law regulating the traffic up the maple tree.

One day the whole family appeared to quarrel among themselves. Malcolm released a volley of hisses and his wife emitted sounds that resembled squealing. The youngsters held council among themselves, having become much more mature during the intervening weeks. The outcome of their discussions appeared to be in favor of meters for squirrels who use maple trees. When all of a sudden Malcolm scattered the whole crowd, his wife included, driving them hither and yon.

The upshot of that action by Malcolm is that he now lives life alone. Lately we have seen nothing of his family of four or his wife. If it were the meter problem that has disunited a former happy family, living happily on a maple tree, we are sorry. Perhaps like Rousseau, Malcolm found his progeny too irksome. It could be that he had gotten mad over the meter argument and decided that the best way out was to dissolve the dissidents and live happily henceforth.

It could be otherwise. It could be that Geraldine has taken her family on a vacation, to show them the peaceful world they are hereafter to inhabit. To introduce them to the numerous dogs and cats that are no friends of squirrels, and to teach them what modern psychiatrists call "awareness." There could be other reasons for their departure.

Mother Geraldine may have taken her family on an exploratory mission. There has been much talk lately of a planning board "official plan" for Aurora. It could be that Malcolm and his wife have heard of this, and have gone in search of information on "what's doing." It could be that the "official plan" calls for the elimination of maple trees that provide sanctuary for squirrels, in which case new homes would have to be found that are outside the restrictive by-laws.

What actually has happened to a former united family we really do not know. But we are keeping a sharp eye on Malcolm and his doings. Since he has been alone he seems to have developed a sly smile that suggests satisfaction, as of one who has done his part in the world and now must leave the rest to others. We think that Geraldine will return when the nuts are ripe. Such loyal wives as she never finally desert their husbands. Malcolm was a good husband, and a good father until the meter problem troubled his family.

Stew Patrick

Stewart Patrick, proprietor of the well-known meat market, is one of Aurora's most colorful personalities. Now in the prime of life, he has already played many parts in business, sport, in local government, and in welfare work. He is keen and aggressive. He is essentially a man's man. In a tough spot you would find him pitching hard, the last man to run away.

These qualities have, no doubt, been developed along the hard road Mr. Patrick has travelled towards the business success he has realized at an early age. He makes no bones about that hard road; he is, in fact, rather proud of it. It has enabled him to gather a great amount of experience which would otherwise have been denied him. It has provided him with a shrewd understanding of men and of business affairs.

Of a genial disposition, Stewart Patrick can also reveal a volcanic temperament on matters which he feels strongly. Once he is sure on his facts he stands by them without concessions of any kind. He is no satisfied, milk and water advocate, but bold and direct in defence of his ideas. Having made up his mind, he stands by his convictions.

ment with Charles Hart. Twenty years later, in September, 1942, he became the owner of the Aurora Meat Market. That was Early Beginnings.

On September 23, 1922, Stewart Patrick commenced employment the long hard road he travelled, from the humblest job in the store to his eventual proprietorship. The fine business he has today has been built up on hard work and good judgment.

He will tell you that he is proud of his slaughtering and manufacturing business, and of the loyalty of the large clientele which has continued to do its business with him through the years. "We sell only the best," he will assure you, "and that accounts for our increasing business returns."

He originated meat service by sound trucks through the lakes. Instead of time being wasted on rapping doors, he brought into use sound trucks that made known the presence of the meat merchant in the lake districts. This novel system was introduced in 1948, and Mr. Patrick has now four trucks equipped with a sound system on the road.

Good customer service is the key to Mr. Patrick's business success. Service and high quality in merchandise; these not

EDITORIALS

YOUR BEST 5 CENT BUY

The 99-year-old St. Mary's Journal-Argus, to which we made reference the other week, had an editorial note in its issue of July 19 which read: "The $2.00 and $2.50 subscription rate for weekly newspapers will soon be a thing of the past. Dozens of town weekly newspapers are changing to the $3.00 rate as a result of rising costs." The annual subscription rate in Canada for the Journal-Argus is $3.00 a year and single copies of the paper cost seven cents.

Without going into any detailed account of the rising costs to which the Journal-Argus correctly makes reference, it will be obvious to all of our readers that costs in weekly newspaper production have been increasing over a lengthy period, and still are increasing. The cost of newsprint alone has almost doubled in the last few years, to mention only one feature in production. Recently the government has imposed an increase in postal rates for newspapers.

Having regard to these circumstances, and without being able to forecast what may happen in the future, we have no hesitation in emphasizing the following facts in support of our contention that your cheapest and best buy at this time is The ERA AND EXPRESS at five cents per copy, or $2.50 for a year's subscription, mailed each week to your address. Other weekly newspapers within a radius of a dozen miles of The ERA AND EXPRESS have recently increased their yearly subscription rates from $2.00 to $2.50. For the present the subscription rate of this newspaper remains at $2.50 yearly.

In these days you cannot buy very much for five cents. But you can buy the best weekly newspaper in North York for your five cents. It is your best buy, and for the following reasons among others.

SERVICE TO READERS

Readers of weekly newspapers look, first of all, for news of their own community and adjoining communities. The best possible news coverage of Newmarket and Aurora and adjoining communities is given in The Era and Express. All local news that matters can be found in its pages. And because The ERA AND EXPRESS is not printed until the last possible moment on Thursdays, readers get the very latest local news.

It would be easy for this newspaper, with its large and experienced staff, to appear on the newsstands at 9 a.m. every Thursday morning, or late Wednesday evenings for that matter. But if that hasty course were pursued readers would be denied a considerable amount of last minute local news. The management of this newspaper considers it better to give its readers all the latest local news, rather than rush it off the press to the detriment of its services to its readers.

Our first consideration is to produce a good and reliable newspaper. We take pride in our newspaper, and our aim is that readers also should take pride in it. Readers will have noticed that our news and advertisements are printed on good solid paper that is pleasant to handle. The ERA AND EXPRESS can be handled without fear that it will fall to pieces because of cheap, inferior paper.

We do not indulge in huge headlines that rob the reader of news space. The former editor of the world's most famous newspaper, Wickham Steed, said that "the bigger the headlines, the more the reader is robbed of news." We are concerned with news, not with giant headlines. For such reasons, including its high editorial standards, The ERA AND EXPRESS has won in the last few years awards, trophies and citations for its successes in the field of Canadian weekly newspaper production.

SERVICE TO ADVERTISERS

The advertising services of The ERA AND EXPRESS are well known throughout North York. Compare the classified advertising pages of this newspaper with any other weekly newspaper within miles of Newmarket and Aurora and the preference of advertisers for The ERA AND EXPRESS is immediately apparent. Advertisers choose the medium that brings them the best results; and in Newmarket and Aurora and adjoining districts there is no weekly newspaper that can compare with this newspaper. The proof of that is provided by the advertisers themselves.

In Canada today there are more than 800 weekly newspapers. Out of that large number there are some 62 weekly newspapers which are members of the Class A Weeklies. This means that advertisers dealing in merchandise of national importance choose Class A Weeklies to bring such merchandise to the knowledge of the buying public. Only the top weekly newspapers in Canada can gain Class A Weekly rating. The ERA AND EXPRESS has gained this position among the top 62 chosen Canadian weeklies because of its services to advertisers, its large circulation and proven qualities.

The ERA AND EXPRESS is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations (ABC). That means that its circulation is audited by independent scrutineers who examine subscriptions to see if they are paid in advance. The ERA AND EXPRESS paid-in-advance subscription list considerably exceeds 3,400 copies weekly. Its total press run exceeds 4,000 copies weekly. A reasonable computation on these figures would mean that from 15,000 to 20,000 readers see The ERA AND EXPRESS each week.

As a medium of local news, of forthright editorial opinion, of advertising services, of clear photography and the best handable newsprint, The ERA AND EXPRESS is proud of its position as North York's best weekly. And you can buy it for five cents per copy, or $2.50 per year. It is your BEST BUY.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Ladies Compete At Aurora In Lawn Bowling Contests Lively Rec. Comm. Meeting

The Aurora lawn bowling greens was the venue for a brilliant display of color that is seen here only once each year. Ranging from vivid pinks to delicate shades in blue, this floral pageant was produced by the presence of ladies gathered from neighboring lawn bowling clubs to take part in tournament contests. A lovely summer's day; an enchanting variety of beautiful dresses; an exposition of bowling skills; and a thoroughly happy time: these contributed to the day's events on Wednesday, Aug. 1, 1951.

Novel Competition
There are all kinds of competitions, but one of the most novel that has come our way is the guessing of the month and day on which a pullet will lay its first egg. Such a contest is being conducted at the present time by Stiver Bros. at their Aurora offices.

There are five pullets in a pen and each one is marked with a number. They are at present four months old. Pullets usually begin to lay from four and a half to five and a half months. Competitors have to guess the exact date on which the pullet whose number they have chosen will lay an egg.

There are good prizes for the lucky winners: (1) a carving set; (2) set of beef steak knives and (3) coffee percolator.

For all we know to the contrary, no egg has yet been laid. That was the situation ten days ago when we talked with Everton Rolling, who was in charge of the office in the absence on vacation of manager Milford McDowell. In the office with him at that moment was Carl Timbers, a member of the staff of Stiver Bros.

It occurred to us that wherever you go in the province of Ontario you will, sooner or later, come upon a Timbers. They are either busy in council, holding some office or engaged in ploughing matches in which they usually win some prize. But can they say when a pullet will lay an egg?

Win For Aurora
Congratulations to Bill Morris (skip) and Leo Potter on winning the lawn bowling tournament at Beeton on Wednesday, Aug. 1. Their score was 53 for three wins and they brought home the blanket prize. Twelve rinks entered this tournament, there being representatives from Stayner, Beeton, Allandale, Barrie and Aurora.

There was one exciting game when Allandale led Aurora by 12 points, but were "checkmated" by a score of seven at one end, after which Aurora went ahead to win the tournament.

This is Aurora's first tournament victory during this season, although many club members have been at the top of their bowling form. Leo Potter won a tournament last season at Aurora. More wins are sure to come to Aurora before this season is over.

Generous Donors
Highlighting the proceedings of the recreation commission at its special meeting on Thursday evening, Aug. 2, was a report from recreation director Tom Dickson that Mr. J. Wilson (Wilson's Hardware) had most generously offered 100 bags of cement for the creation of a wading pool for the new children's playground at Reuben St. Additional to this, Mr. J. Murray, Aurora's deputy reeve, offered mechanical supply and labor in the making of the pool.

The generosity of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Murray in this matter evoked words of appreciation from chairman Don Glass, T. F. Swindle and other members of the commission.

The Reuben St. playground is a new venture on the part of the recreation commission and one that has given all-round satisfaction.

Playground Progress
Excellent reports of the fine progress achieved in providing playgrounds for the children were given by T. F. Swindle and Tom Dickson; and a further report on the provision of benches and tables in the parks was given by councillor Cliff Corbett. There are now four playgrounds; the Mosley park, Mill St., Reuben St. and the latest, Macell's avenue playground.

Mr. Swindle drew attention to the fine work being carried out by the supervisors; and the recreation director stated that 120 youngsters were using the playgrounds.

Reports on other features of the commission's work were presented by councillor Mrs. Fielding, Mr. L. Steadman and Mr. W. Allan. The various reports indicated the great amount of useful work that is being carried out by the commission in providing desirable outlets for the children of Aurora.

Other Business
Presentation of accounts by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Helen Dickson, indicated that the sum of $400 granted by the Aurora Lions club for the work of the commission had not yet been received. It was resolved to make representations for the receipt of the grant, which would serve very useful purposes.

Even In August Heat You'll Have Happy Feet when you make a "foot friend" of the new BLUE JAY Corn and Callus Plasters. With Phenylum! What's that? It's the greatest scientific discovery in years to people who suffer from corns and calluses. For it's effective in banishing these twin misfortunes... in 95% of the cases tested! It took ten years of scientific research by the Blue-Jay folks to perfect Phenylum—and now that they've put it in their corn and callus plasters I, for one, would like to give them a vote of thanks! Now corns are a thing of the past for me... Blue-Jay Corn Plasters with Phenylum have ended my troubles!

The "Savings-Finder" is an ingenious device—a Frigidaire dealer showed me the other day to prove that no home-maker need deprive herself of the enjoyment of a FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR. The dealer sets this household budget "slide rule" at the amount you spend weekly for food and up comes a series of figures which show, as absolute proof, that a Frigidaire refrigerator actually saves more money than you need to make the weekly or monthly payments. If any of you have been depriving yourself of a new Frigidaire, don't do it any longer, girls. Stop in at your nearest Frigidaire dealer and see how today's high food prices make the famous Frigidaire savings more important than ever.

Save That Good Meat! Next time you have odds and ends of meat to use up, try this tender Corn Meal Shortcake. The two-way action of CALUMET BAKING POWDER (first in the mixing bowl, then in the oven) makes the shortcake a dream of deliciousness—as it does all my baking.

CORN MEAL SHORTCAKE
2 cups sifted flour
2 1/2 cups Calumet Baking Powder
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup sugar
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and sugar, and sift into bowl. Add corn meal. Cut in shortening. Add milk and stir until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds to shape. Roll 1/2 inch thick and cut with floured 3-inch cutter. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (425 deg. F.) about 15 minutes, until done. Split hot shortcakes and place creamed meat, fish or eggs between halves and on top. Makes 8 shortcakes.

I Like To Tell Success Stories about favourite buywords of mine. The success story of RED ROSE TEA AND COFFEE began with an ideal of quality—and now the Red Rose name is famous for flavour in thousands of Canadian homes. I know you'll agree with all the "Red Rose Fans" that Red Rose Tea is good tea from the moment you taste that first, flavourful sip! Remember, too, that because it's good tea, it actually gives more cups to the pound—its flavour goes a long, long way. And Red Rose Coffee is every bit as good as Red Rose Tea. Always fresh—always flavourful—once you've tasted this full-bodied coffee, you'll never be satisfied with any other!

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

HEAT WAVE

When the weather gets hotter and hotter, I can't work—I just merely potter Around and about In the house and without Although there are things that I ought-ter

Be doing, in each idle hour But instead I just sit and glower. Although in December And even November I'd vowed that great heat had no power—

To make me say "Oh, I'm so hot", But here I am, most neatly caught, In the lie-web I told When the weather was cold And warmth, the illusive, I sought.

So now, resolutions I make, Although I may freeze or may bake, To say nothing at all Though weather appal, And I hope nothing comes them to shake.

But the memories of humans are frail, And sometimes they falter—and fail, But my vow, like a star, May light me afar On the road where just truth can prevail.

So my friends, if you hear me say, "My, It's so hot, I just think I shall die," Pray rise up and smite me Or somehow affright me, And I'll start on another real try!

RAMSEY - MYERS

Danforth Avenue United church, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty wedding August 4 when Thelma Noreen, daughter of Mrs. Myers, Toronto, and the late Mr. Almer Myers, Zephyr, and Mr. Leonard Henry Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ramsey, Toronto, were united in marriage. The church was decorated with gladioli and Sweet William.

Rev. H. Bland performed the ceremony. Mrs. Murray Holmes was organist and Mr. Murray Holmes, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Carl Franklin Myers, wore a gown of white French lace over net and taffeta, the bouffant skirt sweeping into a slight train. She wore long gloves of matching French lace, and carried a colonial nosegay of white stephanotis, deep red roses and white carnations.

The attendants were Donice Cline, Pefferlaw, maid of honor, Joanne Ramsey and Doris Maxwell, Toronto, bridesmaids, and Faye Windsor, North Bay, flower girl. They were gown in orchid nylon marquisette over taffeta with matching gloves and caps. For travelling the bride donned a grey worsted suit with white accessories and corsage of swansonia. The honeymoon was spent at Grove Park Lodge, Lake of Bays, Muskoka. The couple is residing in Toronto.

Who said You can't Afford a Fine Car?

MANY's the man who has paid far more for a fine car than the price of this beauty—and got less than this gay and gallant traveller offers. Sweeping proudly past you, it has a distinction that few cars can equal. Stepping nimbly away from a stop light, it has the willing surge of power that the very exclusive combination of a Fireball engine and Dynaflo Drive* delivers. It rides the road with majestic smoothness, and comes to a smooth and gentle halt, in response to the finest brakes that Buick engineers ever developed. Inside, it has spacious room, from side to side and front to back and seat to roof—plus a softness of cushions and a richness of fabrics which the custom standards to which bespeak it is built. All you want in a fine car is here in abundance. But don't let that fool you into deciding "it's too rich for me."

If you've looked into 1951 car prices generally, you'll discover this: You can own a Buick for little more than an ordinary car will cost—and for several hundred dollars less than the price tags usually found in "the fine-car field." Why not look into this today?

BUMPER HONEY CROP

"We've hit the jack pot this year in honey production," says Alfred Gillham, 6th con., King, attributing the bumper crop to just-right rainfall with warm weather between for the sweet clover stand. He will average 200 pounds to a colony, his largest crop in ten years, and the second largest in 20 years.

For some time back the colonies have run 35 to 50 pounds in these parts and honey had to be rationed out to customers.

Mr. Gillham's high crops were in 1929, 1941 and now this year. Bee keepers are pleased if production stands at 100 lbs. per colony. What is more important, he says, is the quality of the honey and this year it is exceptionally good. Not all depends on the kind of weather. There must be a good queen bee and plenty of feed during winter.

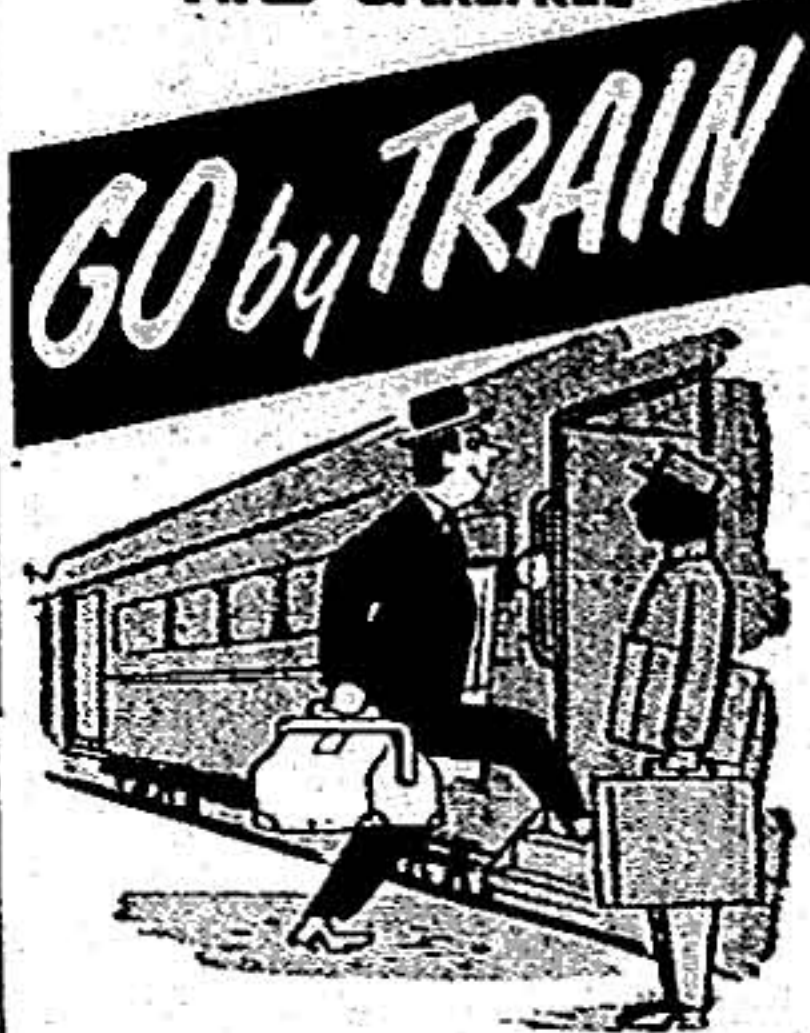

About 50 pounds of honey are left on to provide winter supplies.

"It is a satisfaction to be able to meet the demand this year. We are tired of informing so many customers that supply is short," he declared.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Davidge and family, Thornhill, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. I. Rose.

What They Are Saying

It was further resolved to authorize recreation director Tom Dickson to proceed with the creating of the wading pool on Reuben St.

On the question of nominating a successor to the arena commission to replace Mr. T. F. Swindle, recently resigned, a vigorous discussion arose on whether any useful purpose would be served in recommending any name to council for its approval for service on the arena commission.

Mr. Swindle reiterated his former statement that it was "hopeless" to expect any action from a board that did not hold regular meetings; and that his recent resignation from the arena board was in protest against inaction and delays on the part of the board.

Councillor Fielding expressed the view that the whole matter should be investigated by council itself, who appointed the members of the board. Councilor Corbett said he would bring the matter before council and seek enlightenment on why the arena commission apparently failed in its responsibilities.

"If the members of the arena commission don't want to do the job why don't they quit?" remarked councillor Corbett. Councillor Corbett further maintained that the arena commission had not so far issued any current report on the arena's activities and that itemized financial statements should be provided. He considered their failure to hold regular meetings and to issue reports was a serious matter and he would bring the subject to the notice of the mayor and council.

Mr. Swindle stated that to recommend any name to council to succeed himself on the arena commission would be a waste of time in the present set-up. The recreation commission decided to take no steps towards filling the vacancy until the whole matter had been reviewed by council.

only attract customers but maintain their loyalty. "Customers who come back all the time; that's what matters in business."

Now in the store with Mr. Patrick are his two sons, Howard, lately married, and Donald.

Town Activities

Stewart Patrick is deeply interested in civic matters. In the years 1946-7 he was a member of the town council and served as chairman on the property and park's committees. There is every likelihood that he will seek election to council again. As a large taxpayer his interest in town prosperity is very natural.

He is the owner of a subdivision on the east side of Yonge, on Kennedy to Cousins' Drive as far as Wells street. During the last three years 24 houses have been erected on the property.

Mr. Patrick is a charter member of the Aurora Lions club; and has been a member of the fire brigade since 1924. With chief fireman, Harry Jones, he has studied fire-fighting methods for some time at Toronto university. Both he and Mr. Jones worked together as instructors for the St. John's Ambulance brigade during the war years.

Interest In Sport

Stewart Patrick is interested in all forms of sport, particularly in hockey. In 1939 he received a medal from the O.H.A. when the Aurora hockey juniors won the Ontario championship.

The previous year he was presented with a ring by the Aurora junior hockey club for his services as assistant manager. Mr. Patrick speaks with enthusiasm of the help given by Dr. C. R. Boulding, Bert Tunney and Charlie Rowntree (the latter acting as coach) to the junior club.

Having served as a hockey referee for some years, Mr. Patrick was presented with a very fine wrist watch by the Aurora

Site for New Home

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Benson will build a new home on a site adjacent to the Jack Fraser property near the 3rd con., back to the old stand, as it were, having built and lived in the Fraser home before moving back into the village. Their most recently built home on the 4th con. has been sold to Mr. Wm. Jarvis, Toronto, who with his wife and two children takes occupancy about August 22. Mr. Benson has been building two additional rooms to the house and is re-painting the dwelling. Construction on their new home has not begun. Survey of the lot measuring 150' frontage by 150' deep has been made. Approval by the department of planning and development is now required.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fraser have returned home after an enjoyable month at Victoria Harbour.

Mr. Alex Bishop, wife and young daughter of Whitby visited parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Bishop, for a few days last week.

Miss Beverley Barker will holiday at the Collingwood Crippled Children's Camp, leaving on August 15. Last summer Beverley enjoyed the camp and is now able to enjoy the vacation with greater ease as her condition has noticeably improved.

While taking the teachers' education summer course in Toronto, Mrs. C. Martens and Mrs. McKay, both of Rydal Bank, Northern Ontario, visited at the home of Miss Helen Hunter, Lakeway, last week. They were motored here by Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schaffer, Toronto. The teachers are friends of Mrs. Joan Hill (Flora Hunter), who also teaches school in that vicinity. They were anxious to meet the Hunter family and a pleasant evening was enjoyed, their first journey to this district.

At the Frank Wilkins' home is their daughter, Alice, with her husband, Herbert Rooney, Atikokan, Rainey River district, who will visit her parents and sister, Mrs. Clarke Archibald (Enily), King, for a couple of weeks. Marion Rooney, their daughter, came earlier to her grandmother's and has a friend, Miss Helen Smith, Barrie, as her guest for ten days.

Miss Vivian Schautz, also of Atikokan, spent a day with Mrs. Wilkins last week. She was attending the department of education camp, known as Bellwood Camp, at Fergus. She was appointed by her home town board of education to take a councillor's course. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burgess and children, Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Hamilton, and daughter were also visitors. Mrs. Smith was the former Gladys Owen, Oak Ridge, and had not seen the Wilkins since before the last war.

King Legion Jamboree To Aid Building Fund

One of the chief reasons for the 15th annual jamboree on August 15 being sponsored by King Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary is to promote the building of a club house, a project commenced about two months ago on a park site on Dew St.

A full-sized evening's entertainment has been set up to take place in King Memorial Park. Over the air, Bruce Smith of "Teast and Jamboree" will announce the carnival and dance. There will be booths where refreshments, top-notch bingo with excellent prizes, selected by the Auxiliary (Mrs. A. Fleet, Mrs. A. Campbell and Mrs. Bert Wood, the selection committee), a fish pond, games of chance and good coffee at the Nescafe booth. The open-air dance to Leo Faxon's orchestra is a highlight of the night.

The children will find special interests. With an eye to comfort in the club house, the Auxiliary will devote its program to fun and games. There are two excellent living-room chairs and a lamp.

write members of their families and remember many with frequent post cards. The folks here at home "go along with them", as descriptive letters reveal the pleasure the travellers are experiencing. The one morbid aspect of the trip is the serious lack of rain in B.C.; more than 50 rainless days in many of the shining.

Korea Newsbits

Col. Peter Alexander is "up to his hips in mud" somewhere near Kaeson, Korea; Pie. Bill Crook is on night duty in a fox hole, tired of the sight of mountains, rocks and barren Korean countryside; Paul Mesley, brother of Mrs. Don Chalk, is "getting used to the odors of Korea". With the R.C.E.M.E., Paul would be glad to see Ontario with its mechanized farming; would be glad to see children living like human beings.

The Bishop brothers, Eddie and Garry, now in separate platoons but the same company, "are as anxious to return home as they were to go to Korea". "Everyone over here wants letters from home," writes Peter Alexander. Provost Corps. "I have never been out of Korea since I came over. I haven't seen a town or village standing." He writes two or three letters a week to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Alexander. Paul Mesley writes mostly to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mesley, near Ottawa, and he sizes up the country in a few terse words. He drives supplies to front lines; everyone carries guns, and guerrilla squads are anywhere. One transport ahead of him did not return to base. Children try to sell everything. The soldiers give them apples or oranges as pay for a shoe shine. The soldiers put their shoes through a fence and the youngsters do the shining.

Heart Seizure fatal
Death came suddenly to Robert Hughes, 51, Oak Ridge, on Thursday afternoon following a heart seizure while Mr. Hughes was giving a hand to William Stenden at plastering. The funeral service was held on Saturday, Aug. 4, from the Thompson funeral home, Aurora, with interment in Aurora cemetery. Rev. Mr. Warren conducted the service.

An employee of the Marshall Mattress Co., Toronto, Mr. Hughes was on holiday leave at the time of his death. He leaves a wife and two sons. Last fall the family was burned out when the Stenden Motel was razed by fire. Later they were established in one of the Stenden cabins.

Twins In Family

On Thursday, Aug. 2, the family of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flannagan, 4th con., climbed to six, twin daughters were born as a surprise package at Peel Memorial hospital, Brampton, weighing three and a half and four pounds. Mother and babies are doing well. Their other children, ranging in ages from seven to two years, are Gordon Peter, Pat, Laverne and Linda. The family arrangement is now on equal footing, three boys and three girls. Peter, the father, has just come home from York County hospital where he was under observation as a result of a heavy cold. He was able to visit the Brampton hospital on Sunday to see his wife and daughters. The baby girls have not yet been named as the situation involves hunting around for an extra name.

As far as grandfather and great grandfather, William Flannagan, is concerned he is losing count on these babies. Still young at 75, he might even be an "old man" right now for no less than three grandchildren and three great grandchildren have been born in less than a month. Off hand, he thinks he has about 38 grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crook (Rose Flannagan), King, R. 1, have two new grandchildren, a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Saravilla (formerly Teresa Crook), Toronto, on July 15; and a daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wood (Rose Crook), at York County hospital on August 4. Thus the Flannagan twins are second cousins of these babies, or are they?

Mr. Douglas Scott and Miss Margaret Chambers, Toronto, motored to Noranda, Que., for the holiday weekend with Miss Chambers' parents there. The trip required nine hours one way.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Robson and daughter, Louise, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irving L. Scott at their summer home, "Island View", at Victoria Harbor. Enjoy 3,000-Mile Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Norris returned home last week after a month's motor trip to Saskatchewan. Their journey was 3,000 miles, touching numerous places of interest in Canada and the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Norris were able to convert their car for sleeping accommodation, using cabins in wet weather. With a folding stove, they were equipped to cook their meals. They spoke of the wayside tables set up at convenient points. Especially novel were those found in the state of Michigan at their left Superior. Made of timbers from native forests, they were sturdy, put together with wooden pins and varnished to a golden gleam and unaffected by the weather. An overhanging sign said they were the first set of wayside tables in the state of Michigan, built in 1920. The travellers saw the beautiful city of Duluth, 28 miles long and two miles at the widest point. They

Speed Trap In King?

The burning question in King village is violation of traffic speed laws. Considerable prominence has recently been given to the efficiency of a one-man speed trap in the small village of Caledon. In a very few hours, close to 1,000 vehicles were clocked at excessive speeds and the drivers summoned.

This would appear to be a very profitable operation both morally and financially and from the consensus here, the system could well be copied by the township of King especially in the village of King, where, as one resident states, "enforcement of the highway traffic act is nothing more than a farce".

From early morning until late at night, cars, light trucks, heavily loaded transports and dump trucks roar through the village at criminal speeds, completely ignoring the 30 MPH speed limit signs as if "they were no more than a colorful dash of paint," states one informant. "Must we wait for the death of some child or elderly resident, unable to cross the streets quickly enough, before action is taken to enforce speed laws?"

Upon being informed of the contents of the foregoing paragraph, the copy reached the press, it was immediately promised all four roads leading into King will be checked for speedsters. "When the people say there is a traffic hazard, it will be looked after at once," he declared. "Lives must not be endangered. We do not want either death or injuries caused by speeding motorists."

Contract For Roads

Four tenders were received by Whitchurch Township Council for the re-surfacing of 2.7 miles of Musselman's Lake roadway, and the contract for the work was awarded to Beamish Construction Co. who quoted a price of 24.2c per gallon for oil, and $1.25 per ton for pea gravel.

It is estimated by the company that the job of re-surfacing of Cedar Beach around the south shore and as far west as Ballantree, will require approximately 6,400 gallons of oil and 310 tons of stone, bringing the total cost of the contract to $1,902.80.

In connection with township roads, a second communication was tabled from D. Morrison of Cherry St. just south of Vivian, demanding information concerning the local improvement work being done on that street. Mr. Morrison demanded to know why the cost was being paid on a frontage basis and why the amounts of each household were not the same. This is the second letter received from Mr. Morrison threatening legal action to obtain the information he desired.

Clerk Crawford placed before council a communication which he had sent to the Cherry St. resident following the last council meeting and which council believed fully covered any explanation required. The cost of the local improvement is not based on frontage as contended by the ratepayer, but on assessment, and naturally various amounts are charged to the various residents on the street.

Car Turns Over Three Times

Just how Mrs. Frank W. Mesley and her sons, Gordon and Bob, North Gore, near Ottawa, escaped serious injury when their car turned over three times in a traffic accident recently is hardly accountable. They were shaken up and bruised but the car was totally wrecked. It landed on its side after trying to avoid a collision. Bob was driving his mother and brother to their cottage at Rideau Lake. Charges were laid against the driver of the other vehicle, Mrs. Mesley, formerly of Eversley, is the mother of Mrs. Don Chalk, Temperanceville. Their home at North Gore village lies about 28 miles from Ottawa.

Dr. G. S. Chalk and wife of Cobourg spent the weekend with their son, Gordon (Don), Temperanceville. Dr. Chalk is head of the Ontario hospital at Cobourg.
